EXTRA TIME FOR TRUST DECISION

ADMINISTRATORS drawing up plans for a radical overhaul of services at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust have been granted extra time to finalise their blueprint.

Health watchdog Monitor says the extension is to allow more time to reach an agreement on the future funding of services.

by Laura Blyth

It comes after bosses at the University Hospital of North Staffordshire NHS Trust said they needed £125 million to bring Stafford Hospital up to scratch and extend their site in Stoke-on-Trent to take on extra patients. The trust's special administrators will now be allowed 55 days to write up their final report – rather than just 15 days.

Campaigners fear the extension is more about making sure the finances add up, rather than looking again at services that should stay at Stafford.

Agreement

Dr David Bennett, chief executive of Monitor, said: "We need to find an answer to the question of who will be providing what funding to secure the future of essential patient services in Mid-Staffordshire.

"We are giving extra time for the interested parties to reach agreement over the next few weeks, in order to ensure that patients continue to get the services they need and the taxpayer gets value for money.

"I hope that agreement can now be reached very quickly so that the staff of Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust can be given the assurance they need about their hospitals' future."

Current proposals include stripping Stafford Hospital of its maternity and paediatric inpatient care, and downgrading its critical care unit. At Cannock Hospital, health bosses in Wolverhampton and Walsall are looking to run services.

Public consultation into the TSAs proposals ended on October 1.

Professor Hugo Mascie-Taylor and Alan Bloom then had 15 working days to compile their final report. They now have an extra 40 days before the document is sent to Monitor, but Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt is still expected to make a final decision on the report by the end of the year.

Support Stafford Hospital campaigner Cheryl Porter said: "There could be all sorts of reasons why Monitor has granted this extension.

"It's probably just to sort out the financial side of the recommendations. They have probably already decided on the future of Stafford Hospital. They just now need to balance the books.

"As a campaign group we will keep fighting on. We know what is needed at this hospital."

In June the TSAs requested an extra 30 days from Monitor to finalise their draft recommendations. They also asked for 10 extra days to be added to the period of public consultation.

M6 work leads to a rise in toll users

LONG-running roadworks on the M6 have caused drivers to abandon the main route and pay to use the toll road instead.

Figures out this week show toll road usage has risen as fed-up drivers flee snarl-ups and roadworks on the main M6.

On peak working days over the three months from July to September, 48,309 vehicles a day have used the privately-owned toll road – an increase of 11.8 per cent on the same point a year ago.

But the biggest increase was at weekends and during holidays, when traffic increased by 16.7 per cent to 35,201 vehicles a day.

Average daily traffic over the three months was up 13.3 per cent.

Closures

Drivers using the M6 face a combination of narrow lanes, reduced speeds and occasional night-time lane closures. Earlier this month Toll operators Midland Expressway revealed the roadworks on the motorway had helped to cut its own losses by £5 million in 2012 to £36.7 million.

Midland Expressway says it expects to benefit from continuing disruption on the M6 throughout this year.

More than 13 million people used the pay road last year but a hike in toll fees helped boost revenue by 3.9 per cent to £58.05 million.

Hear sounds of Rat Pack

A POPULAR Cannock venue play hosts to the sights and sounds of Las Vegas this weekend.

The Premier Suite, in High Green, hosts The Rat Pack Las Vegas Ball on Saturday. The event includes a champagne reception from 7pm, a five-course meal, fun casino and entertainment from The 'Rat Pack' Live and Party DJ.

The dress code for this event is strictly black tie and evening dress. To book, call 01543 572092.

Designer poppies have appeal

Jackie Littlemore with her crocheted poppies for sale for the British Legion

A GREAT-grandmother is continuing to raise money for the Royal British Legion by creating her own brand of designer poppies.

Jackie Littlemore has been hand-stitching the poppies for five years and sales have taken off.

This year, she has crocheted more than 600 of the symbolic blooms ready for Remembrance Sunday in November.

The former welfare officer from Kingsley Wood Road, Rugeley, spends three to four hours a day throughout the year working on the poppies.

Jackie said: "I can only work in half-hour bursts but it all mounts up. I make four or five a day. I find this easier than having a scramble at the end.

"I will take a couple of weeks off when it's all over and then start again. I have to be a bit careful because of my arthritis but with breaks, the exercise helps."

Mrs Littlemore hopes to make £1,000 for the charity, which will bring her total raised to £5,000 overall.

She started by making a dozen poppies for a table-top sale. Now they have gone all over the world – to America, Canada, New Zealand.

Some have even been bought to wear at the Remembrance Service at the Albert Hall.

"It began when I made a corsage for a friend and people started putting orders in.

"This year I've made wristbands with poppies that can also be used for ponytails."

To contact Mrs Littlemore about the poppies, call 01889 585813.

Public to have say on plans for HS2

THE public can this week have a say on the future of high speed rail in Staffordshire.

Public information events on the second phase of the HS2 link between Birmingham, Leeds and Manchester are taking place throughout the county.

The sessions, carried out by HS2 Ltd, began yesterday (Wednesday) in Tamworth, and, after an event in Yarnfield today, move onto Rugeley tomorrow (Friday).

The consultation ends on Saturday in Newcastle-under-Lyme.

Tomorrow's event takes place from noon to 8pm at Armitage with Handsacre Village Hall, in Shropshire Brook Road, Armitage.

Advice

Engineering, environment, property and community relations teams will provide a range of advice and information.

A special sound booth is also being set up to give visitors an accurate recording of how the HS2 line will sound in that particular section of the proposed route.

Residents will be able to review information relating to the route in their area, look at detailed maps, read the consultation materials and speak directly with HS2 Ltd staff about the plans.

Consultation on the second phase runs until January next year.

Free parking bays boost

FREE parking for 40 minutes will be introduced in Cannock and Hednesford towns in a bid to boost trade.

Plans to introduce 23 free bays in Cannock were approved while an extension to free parking has been agreed for Hednesford and will be introduced by Christmas.

The Cannock bays, in Manor Avenue, Mill Street and Stafford Road, are expected to come into use next April. The order will apply from 8am to 6pm from Monday to Saturday.

Scrap metal licensing laws backed

COUNCILLORS have backed plans for new licensing laws for scrap metal dealers and collectors.

At a meeting last week, Cannock Chase Council's cabinet gave its support to the Scrap Metal Dealers Act 2013 which came into effect on October 1.

The regulations will see all scrap metal dealers and collectors having to complete an enhanced application process to determine whether they are able to obtain a licence.

It will be an offence to carry on a business as a dealer without a licence.

It costs £480 for a site licence £480 and £250 for collectors. Both expire after three years of the issue date.

The authority has the power to turn down applicants considered unsuitable if they have any criminal convictions and/or enforcement actions against them.

A copy of the licence must be displayed prominently at all times. Failure to do so is an offence.

Welcomed

Council leader George Adamson said: "The Scrap Metal Dealers Act 2013 is welcomed in our district.

"It gives the council better powers to regulate the activity and deal with unlicensed scrap metal dealers and collectors in the area. It is important with the problem of metal theft that this industry is properly regulated."

To report an unlicensed scrap metal dealer/collector please provide details of their vehicle, including the registration number to Cannock Chase District Council on 01543 462621.

Families fear for future of special needs centre

ADULTS with special needs will be 'effectively abandoned' if a council-run day centre is axed, families claim.

Staffordshire County Council has drawn up proposals to overhaul its services for adults with learning difficulties, and a consultation is running until November.

Independent providers such as charities, community groups and private companies could be brought in to run services.

In Cannock, Chase Day Services at the Eric Roberts Centre, Longford Road could be affected by the plans.

More than 60 people packed a public meeting in Heath Hayes to express their fears over potentially losing the centre, which offers activities for adults with learning difficulties.

Dave Bailey, of Old Fallow Road, Cannock, said his son Stuart, aged 41, would be inconsolable if he knew the centre was under threat.

He said: "The council seems to want to wash their hands of these vulnerable people and send them out into the world on their own.

Abandoned

They will effectively be abandoned. The centre is a lifeline for its users and for us as families."

Dorothy Bailey said: "Can you imagine going through life without friends? My son cannot write or read but he can talk and he loves friends. A life without friends would be as bad for him as it would for us."

Cannock Chase councillor Janos Toth attended the meeting and said: "I got very emotional listening to people's stories."

County councillor Robbie Marshall, said: "This consultation is very much about improving the quality of support and the quality of lives for people. No decisions have been made."

£200 given for bulbs to brighten up a local park

A COUNTY councillor has provided £200 to help brighten up a Burntwood park.

Councillor Sue Woodward has pledged the cash through the Staffordshire Local Community Fund. It will be spent on spring bulbs to help Chase Terrace Park, in High Street, come into bloom.

The public is urged to help plant the bulbs, which comprise bluebells, snowdrops and daffodils, next month.

The bulbs will be planted under the trees and around the park's main entrance between 11am and 2pm on November 2. Tools will be provided, but gardening gloves may be required, Councillor Val Richards of Lichfield District Council, said: "This is a good opportunity for local people to volunteer for their park.

"We'd like to thank Councillor Woodward for donating the bulbs."

Councillor Woodward, who represents Chase Terrace ward, said: "Chase Terrace Park is a little gem, a real asset to the local community that is valued and well-used.

"We can all look forward to a fantastic display next spring."

Pupils given food for thought

YPSM Rosemarie Watkiss from the Salvation Army in Hednesford, receives food hampers from teacher Kirsty Salisbury and youngsters at West Hill Primary School

KIND-HEARTED schoolchildren in Hednesford have been creating hampers of food for charity to celebrate harvest time.

Pupils at West Hill Primary School have been learning about harvest festival during class time and in assemblies.

They created the packages made up from different food items, including pasta, soup and rice, which will be sent to Trinity Methodist Church food bank and the Salvation Army. Teacher Kirsty Salisbury said: "This is the first time we have asked the children to create hampers and I think it is a really good way for them to understand what harvest time is all about.

"Creating hampers with their families is a great way for them to come together to work on a project.

"All of the hampers will go to people who need them the most and I am sure they will be really appreciated, especially with Christmas approaching."

Facebook appeal to save cafe launched

A COFFEE shop has grounds for hope after loyal customers began a campaign to keep it in the town.

A Facebook page has been set up to stop Caffe Del Nino falling prey to the big boys.

The coffee shop in High Green Court is run by brothers Paolo and Alfonso Vechhio and named after their father Antonio.

However, loyal customers feel potential users could be lured away by the likes of Costa in Cannock Shopping Centre.

The Facebook campaign currently has more than 40 'likes'. Doug Smith, who is behind it, said the brothers were just trying to make a living and urged fellow residents to support the cafe.

He said: "This is a friendly place with wonderful coffee. It is in a quiet part of Cannock and not being used enough. They do not want to expand into a chain, they would just like to make a living doing what they love, meeting people and serving great coffee and good food.

"Let's support them and help a local business make it in the face of the opposition from the 'big boys'."

To support the campaign, visit Facebook and click Save Our Coffee Shop.

Fundraising goal beaten

A PENSIONER who put on a soup kitchen-style fundraiser beat her target by collecting around £700. Jean Mawson had hoped to collect around £180 in donations.

She put on the soup kitchen-style fundraiser at Chasetown Methodist Church on October 12.

Mrs Mawson made pea, ham and vegetable soups and said: "It was a lovely afternoon. I'd like to say a big thank you to all the people that helped me out."

For her 75th birthday in June, Mrs Mawson asked for cash from her friends and family the Leukaemia & Lymphoma Research charity. A cheque for £1,000 has now been handed over.

Store fills void left by Evans

A NEW clothes store has opened up in Cannock Shopping Centre.

Crazy Daisy is the first of its kind and combines an eclectic mix of current women's high street fashion at a fraction of the original prices.

It also sells homeware and gifts for all ages.

Jo Thacker, owner of Crazy Daisy, which sells an extensive range of well-known home brands such as Cats Eye London, Ashley & Burwood and Splosh, said: "We are thrilled to be part of this vibrant shopping centre and look forward to bringing our high street brands at discounted prices to the shoppers of Cannock.

Party

"By having such a variety in one store we hope to help our customers, especially in the lead up to Christmas, in buying their gifts and also perhaps even pick up a party dress while they're here."

The centre's new addition has moved into the unit vacated by ladieswear store Evans.

Manager of Cannock Shopping Centre, Natal Chapman, said: "I am delighted to welcome Crazy Daisy to the centre.

"This is the first one of its kind in Cannock Shopping Centre and I am sure it will be a great success."

Festive fair aids church

A RUGELEY church Christmas fair takes place on Saturday, November 16.

St Paul's in Lichfield Road, hosts the event from 10am to noon.

Stalls will sell gifts, decorations and cards. Homemade cakes, pies and quiche will also be on sale, together with books, bric-a-brac, railway memorabilia and tools.

Refreshments will be available, including bacon sandwiches and a raffle will also help to boost the funds.

Coffee morning

THE next monthly coffee morning at a Rugeley church takes place on November 6 from 10.30am. The events are held on the first Wednesday of each month at St John's Church, Slitting Mill. Entry is £1.50, to include coffee, biscuits and cake, There will also be a fundraising bric-a-brace sale and a raffle.

Little Tarzans can Go Ape! with new course

Youngsters will from this weekend be able to try the Junior Tree Top adventure course at Go Ape!

YOUNGSTERS can Go Ape! with a new Tree Top Junior course at Birches Valley.

The 400m long-course, equivalent to more than 2,500 bananas or 2,850 felt tip pens, will launch on Saturday in time for the half-term holiday. Building work on the course began just under three weeks ago.

Set in the beautiful surroundings of Cannock Chase, the new junior course features 23 obstacles, including the spider web, log balance and jungle crossing, as well as two zip lines.

It costs £16 for young Tarzans, who must be aged six and under, or over a metre tall, and should be accompanied by an adult. It should take up to an hour to complete, though Usain Bolt is likely to get around in just 40 seconds. Upon completion, all participants are awarded their very own personalised certificate to keep.

Excited

The course is set near the main Go Ape! course, which since opening in 2008 has welcomed more than 100,000 visitors, with a further 10,000 having ridden through the forest on a segway adventure.

Claire Potter, course manager at Go Ape! Cannock, said: "We are really excited to announce the launch of our new Tree Top Junior course, as the experience is now available to those who have previously been too young to adventure in the trees.

"At Go Ape! our ethos is all about creating adventures and encouraging the whole family to live life adventurously.

"The new course offers excitement for those of all ages, not just little monkeys."

With the opening of the new course, there will be vacancies for various instructors positions next year. Recruitment will open through the Go Ape! website in November.

Fundraising night ends with mass brawl on pub car park

A PUB'S charity fundraiser ended in violence with a mass brawl on the car park, a court heard.

Regulars at Huntington's Littleton Arms fought against a group of Halloween revellers, one wearing a Scream mask, Stafford crown court was told.

by Marion Brennan

Bottles and glasses were thrown, weapons including a claw hammer and a saw were brandished and by the time police arrived, up to 50 people were on the car park, said Mr Stuart Clarkson, prosecuting.

Three people involved in the fracas were each given suspended custody sentences for affray.

Regulars

Thomas Podmore, aged 20, of Woodland Court, Cannock admitted the charge, but his sister Jade Podmore, 21, of Stafford Road, Huntington and Paul Wood, 43, of Chase Walk, Cannock both pleaded not guilty. They were each convicted by a jury.

The court heard the brawl happened on October 27 last year when the pub was holding a fundraising night for a cancer research charity.

Mr Clarkson said there were two 'sides' involved – the Podmores and their group on one and the regulars, Wood included, on the other.

It started when one of the Podmore group was asked to leave by landlord Paul Cecil.

Thomas Podmore left but returned with his father and they had a saw and a hammer. The defendant threatened one of the regulars with 'I'll cut you up'.

In a basis of plea, Thomas Podmore said he had not brought the saw to the pub – he took it from his father who has since passed away.

Wood and Jade Podmore were each sentenced to 18 months jail suspended for two years and ordered to do 100 hours unpaid community work. Thomas Podmore got 12 months youth custody suspended for two years with 50 hours unpaid community work.

Mr Daniel Oscroft, for Thomas Podmore, said: "His behaviour on the night was borne out of misplaced loyalty."

Mr Rob Perry, for Jade Podmore said she was also mourning the death of her father. "She ran towards the landlord with what could be regarded as a weapon. She was knocked out and played no further part in the incident," he said.

Mr Stephen Bailey, for Wood, said: "He stopped as soon as he realised the police were there. He used no weapon, brandished no bottle and threw no glass."

Mothers' Union fundraiser

A FUNDRAISING Day for the Mothers' Union charities takes place in Rugeley next month. Three separate sessions will be held on Thursday, November 14 at Timbertops, 2, The Pingle, from 10am to noon, 2-4pm and 7-9pm. They will feature a bring and buy sale, light refreshments and a raffle. Tickets are available on the door, priced at £3.

Visitor Service Assistants Ruth Taylor, left and Sarah Challinor get ready for the half-term spooktacular at the Museum of Cannock Chase in Valley Road, Hednesford

Tricks and treats are on offer at attraction

A WEEK of fiendish fun is taking place at the Museum of Cannock Chase during the half-term holiday.

Halloween quizzes, a hunt trail and the spooktacular Tunnel of Fear are among the activities at the site in Valley Road, Hednesford.

They start on Tuesday, October 29 with a ghostly goings-on drop-in workshop from 11am-3pm.

For a £1.50 fee, children, accompanied by their parents, can make pipe cleaner characters, spooky mummy heads, paper plate ghosts and lanterns.

Spooky spiders, scary seed pictures, masks and cone bats, witches and wizards can be created on Wednesday, while fiendish Frankenstein's monsters, dancing mummies and bouncy ghosts can be made during Thursday's session.

Once Halloween is over, children can get up close and personal with the animals from Gentleshaw Wildlife Centre. The pre-booked workshop starts at 11.30am on Friday, November 1.

The session is for children aged five and tickets are £4, admitting one child and one adult, with a proportion of the proceeds going towards the Wildlife Centre.

Early booking is advised. Call the attraction on 01543 877666.

NEWS in brief

Discounted offer on microchipping

PET owners in Cannock can take advantage of a discounted microchipping offer this weekend.

They can take their cats or dogs to Pets At Home and be microchipped for just £10 a part of an awareness weekend.

To help owners meet the government deadlines of compulsory microchipping, Pets at Home Cannock, in Orbital Way, hosts regular microchipping events throughout the year.

Store manager Joanne Stephens said: "Microchipping in its simplest terms means that if your cat or dog is lost or stolen, there is a better chance you will avoid any heartache and be reunited with your beloved pet."

The chip is roughly the size of a grain of rice, fits under the pet's skin and contains information about its owner, making it easier for both to be reunited.

For more information go to www.petsathome.com or contact the store.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

AUNTIE Beeb informed us in her most deferential tones that Prince William, in his new job of dispensing honours, will be required "to stand for an hour at a time." Phew.

SCIENTISTS studying bonobo apes in Africa have discovered they are capable of empathy, reaching out to comfort and embrace bonobos in distress. Bonobos – similar to humans, but Godlier.

THE scariest part of the politicians' plan to regulate the Press is the draconian penalty for those newspapers which decide not to sign up to the regulating body. Any refusenik publication which was later sued for libel would have to pay all the costs, possibly running into millions - even if it won the case. So the courts, in effect, would be employed to drive opt-out newspapers into bankruptcy. This is such a monstrous abuse of the judicial system, such a gross denial of natural justice, such an affront to our freedoms of conscience and expression that it could simply never happen in this sceptre'd isle. Agreed? Think again. The latest edition of Private Eye reports that the law is already drafted and ready to go.

A REPORT this week says universities should be brought into the heart of the British economy and given public money to turn great ideas into real business. The report, by GlaxoSmithKline boss Sir Andrew Witty, says £1,000 million should be pumped into what he calls "Arrow Projects." It looks good on paper but, in real life, how business-friendly are our universities? The spat over Ed Miliband's father, Ralph, is a reminder of the half-baked, anti-business Marxist theories which once infested British campuses. We are encouraged to believe all that nonsense was swept away by Thatcherism. But was it? After the riots of 2011 a lecturer at the University of Wolverhampton wrote a blog, which is still online, describing the trashing of the city as "a tiny bit of damage." He suggests the looters were no worse than businessmen. As he puts it: "They decided to acquire stuff in the way the businessmen and barons do: by theft. More direct theft than their social superiors, but not so different." I bet the Chamber of Trade love that.

THE more food banks that are set up, the more people become "dependent" on them. One charity reports this week that the number using its food banks has tripled in a single year, which reveals "the scandal of food poverty." Does it? Or does it simply prove that if you give anything away for nothing, people will queue up for it?

IF THE pubs started offering free beer, I bet we'd see an awful lot of beer poverty.

I REFERRED recently to the many ways of pronouncing "ough". Even so, in Nottingham of all places you'd think they'd get Brian Clough's name right. A friend reports driving through the city when the voice in her sat-nav suddenly began giving directions to "Brian Cloe Way."

Students to show off skills at final

STUDENTS from South Staffordshire College have made it through tough regional rounds to represent their sectors at The WorldSkills UK national finals.

Toni Yilmaz, aged 27 from Cheslyn Hay, qualified in the nail technology category. She completed a full set of nail enhancements and was then selected from a number of students to compete in the WorldSkills UK competitions. She studied nail technology at an evening course at the Tamworth campus and is currently studying hairdressing.

Louisa Cooper, aged 19 from Burntwood, will represent South Staffordshire College in floristry, after qualifying at the regional heat. Louisa had to design and make a floral cushion prior to the show and make two other items during the competition – a hand tied creation and a corsage.

A college spokesman said: "Both Toni and Louisa did extremely well to make the final, as qualification in the regional round does not guarantee a place.

"They had to be among the six highest scoring competitors in the country to go forward to the national final."

Students from across South Staffordshire College's four campuses have also volunteered to support the Skills Show. Some 60 construction students and 12 sports science students will get the chance to work within a team, to see a national event built, delivered and broken down.

The national finals are an integral part of The Skills Show which takes place at the NEC from November 14-16. The free event offers students the chance to meet employers and existing students.

First look at scheme to replace historic building

CAMPAIGNERS fighting to save an historic building from the bulldozer have been given their first glimpse of what may replace it if they lose their battle.

Residents are giving their views after public consultations opened on the future of 143-year-old Ivy House, a former workhouse and maternity hospital in Cannock.

Some of the visitors had sentimental attachments to the building having given birth there.

They quizzed officials from Wrekin Housing Trust as they held two exhibitions, showing the plans in detail.

Hundreds of people are opposed to the plans and public meetings were being held this week.

One woman, who did not wish to be named, said: "Our eldest son, now 46, was born there. Anyone over 40 round here would have been born there. The place holds a lot of memories for people.

"The council has already taken the back of Ivy House for housing, now they want to take the rest of it down."

The Victorian building could make way for 12 affordable homes and four apartments under the plans.

Shelved

The development is linked to a new health park already under development at nearby Langbourn House, which includes 63 apartments for the over-50s, a GP surgery, respite facilities for people with learning difficulties and a pharmacy.

Campaigners had thought they had won the battle to save Ivy House. Previous plans to flatten it were shelved by Staffordshire County Council in March after more than 1,000 people signed a petition against the work.

Eve Ashton, aged 63, said: "I'm pleased they're doing something with Langbourn House."

Mark and Kerrie Wachlin's home in Longford Road backs on to Langbourn House.

Mr Wachlin, a semi-retired civil servant, said: "It is a three-storey development and totally different to the original building. We're not opposed to it but the designs keep changing. But we have signed the petition to keep Ivy House, we're against that being knocked down."

Campaigner Margaret Price, of Longford Road, vowed: "We're not giving up without a fight. My primary objection is that this is an historic building and there are very few of them left in Cannock."

Emotive mining portrait screened

A MOVING portrait of British miners made by a renowned American filmmaker is being screened in Burntwood next month.

A screening and talk of 'The Miners' Hymns' takes place at St John's Community Church, High Street as part of a Burntwood Chase Heritage nostalgia night on Tuesday, November 5.

Made by Bill Morrison, in collaboration with Icelandic musician and composer Johan Johansson, it is being staged in partnership with Forma and Flatpack Festival

The film is made up almost entirely of archive footage and celebrates the social, cultural, and political aspects of the now-extinct coalmining industry.

The group will also screen some archive shorts featuring footage provided by the Media Archive for Central England of miners in the Midlands. Author David Bell will be there to give an insight into the Staffordshire mining industry.

The 7.30pm screening is free but ticketed and there is a £2 cost for the room. Tickets can be booked at http://minershymns-burntwood.eventbrite.com/

There will be refreshments served and a raffle.

Screening of Nemo movie

FILM-lovers can enjoy Finding Nemo at a Cannock children's cinema club this weekend.

Organised by CreateChurch:Cannock, the CreateCinema:Club takes place on the last Saturday of the month from 10am to noon at the Electric Palace Picture House in Walsall Road.

Youngsters up to 11 can watch family classics on the big screen with their parents and carers, at a cost of 50p each to cover refreshments.

Tickets are available on the door. Tea, coffee and squash will be available, while filmgoers can also buy popcorn and other snacks.

Pianist performs

WELL-known pianist Jon Canning is performing at the Aquarius Ballroom in Hednesford. He will appear at the Victoria Street venue on Friday, November 1 for an evening of ballroom and sequence dancing from 8pm. Tickets are £5. For more details call 07726 308595.

Fugitive on run for four years found by chance

A MAN on the run from police for nearly four years has been brought to justice.

Adam Dickin was jailed for three months for escaping from a court enforcement officer sent to arrest him for breaching a suspended jail sentence.

Stafford Crown Court heard Dickin was found 'purely by chance' when police officers executed a search warrant at a house in Hednesford on an unrelated matter.

Mr Kevin Jones, prosecuting, said Dickin became a wanted man in September 2009 after he flouted a suspended jail term imposed in April that year for motoring offences. Enforcement officers went to his address in Church Street, Bridgtown, on December 1, 2009.

He opened the door but ran off and disappeared as he was being escorted to the cell in the officer's vehicle.

He was at large until September 15 this year when police went to his current address.

Dickin, aged 34, now of Cotswold Road, Hednesford, admitted escaping from lawful custody.

Go hunting for the clues

VISITORS to Penkridge Market can take part in a treasure hunt with a difference. Bosses want to make it a paperless trail with participants picking up clues and posting their answers online via Facebook.

Next Wednesday's event (October 30) is free to enter and the first one to complete it wins a prize. It runs from 9am to 3pm.

Market manager Matt Williams said: "If visitors haven't got a smart phone, we will print a copy off for them, but we want to try and make it a paperless event, if we can."

Visitors are encouraged to come in fancy dress, as there will be a prize for the scariest costume. The winner will be announced at 2pm, outside The Old Deanery Farm Cafe.

Books and gifts

BOOKS, Christmas gifts, cakes and crafts will be on offer an autumn fair in Rugeley. It takes place at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Hislop Road, Pear Tree estate, from 1-3pm on Saturday, November 9 and will also feature a tombola.

School is banking on votes to win £3,000 prize

Vote For Us is the plea from Year Four Chancel pupils William Jenkins, Jensen Peake, Stella Madden and Freya Lawrence

A RUGELEY school has been shortlisted for a top prize and could win £3,000.

Chancel Primary has been shortlisted for the Lloyds Bank Community Fund 2013. By encouraging the public to vote, the school has a chance to be awarded the grant from the bank to enable it to continue its good work in the community.

Sarah Mollitt, PTFA chairman, said: "The Lloyds Bank Community Fund will make a huge difference to our school by enabling us to encourage involvement with local community groups, making a difference to the lives of our pupils and their families in Rugeley."

Pupils visited the Lloyds Bank branch in Rugeley town centre last week to cast their own vote and meet with the staff to explain how their school would benefit from the grant.

Anyone can vote by going into the local branch in Upper Brook Street, visiting the Community Fund website, or by texting 'VOTE KMTA' to 61119. Voting closes on Friday, November 1.

The Lloyds Bank Community Fund is helping local people across England and Wales to have a positive impact at the hearts of their communities by giving grants to more than 1,300 local good causes in villages, towns and cities across England and Wales. There are four local good causes in each community and each will receive an award. Two local good causes from each community will receive £3,000 each, with the other two receiving £300 each.

For more about the Community Fund and Chancel Primary School and to cast a vote, visit the Lloyds Bank Community Fund website at www.lloydsbank.com/communityfund

Fears town centre could be left behind on regeneration

A COUNCILLOR has warned that struggling Cannock town centre faces being the only one in the Midlands without a major regeneration project to boost its economy.

Cannock Chase Council officially threw out controversial plans to build a town centre extension at Beecroft Road in Cannock at a meeting last week.

Experts to probe why big names steer clear

CONSULTANTS are to be brought in to find out why big-name retailers are shunning Cannock town centre.

It comes after plans to turn the Beecroft Road car park into a shopping complex were shelved.

Staffordshire County Council will also help the town bolster its position in the shopping pecking order.

Council chiefs, keen to bolster Cannock's position, propose to undertake a review of the town centre's retail prospects and want to buy in 'specialist advice' to help them plot the next step.

The fees for the consultants must be met out of existing budgets.

Councillor leader George Adamson said consultants would advise how the likes of Cannock should position their town centres 'to strengthen themselves for the long term'.

He said: "Residential properties encroach quite closely on the town centre, which is restrictive, and we are surrounded by large privately owned stores like Morrisons which is separated from the town centre."

But Councillor Gordon Alcott, who represents the council on the both the influential Greater Birmingham & Solihull and Stoke-on-Trent & Staffordshire local enterprise partnerships of business leaders, said the town faced being left behind.

He said: "During the last 18 months one of the major items has been discussing the regeneration of all the towns and cities within the conurbation and all these other areas are planning on improving their town centres. We will be the only one without.

Investing

"It is important, and not just a matter for developing the town centre. It is about creating jobs, ambition, and bringing in new business for the area."

Council leader George Adamson fears Cannock will be left behind Tamworth, Lichfield and Stafford, which are investing in their retail facilities.

Public consultation found the majority of residents were against the plans and that there appeared to be little interest from household names in coming to the town.

Councillor Adamson said: "We have listened to the people and it is clear that there is not the appetite for this scheme.

"When we launch a consultation we do exactly as it says on the tin and act on people's views."

Author drops in to see contest winners

Children's author Ciaran Murtagh with children at Ridgeway Primary School in Burntwood

A POPULAR children's writer visited a Burntwood school to meet young pupils who have become published writers.

Ciaran Murtagh dropped in on Ridgeway Primary as the Year Six children celebrated winning a national competition.

The class was chosen from 350 entrants in a contest to write The Powerful Story, a book about the past and future of energy. Mr Murtagh had written the first chapter and left pupils to finish the rest of the book. He judged the entrants before then visiting the Grange Road school, running a creative workshop as well as reading an excerpt from The Powerful Story.

Privilege

Mr Murtagh said: "It's been a real privilege reading the entries to The Powerful Story from children across the UK."

The story will be brought to life during half-term week in a free to visit, interactive exhibition at Eureka! The National Children's Museum, in Halifax, West Yorkshire.

The competition was run in with the British Gas Generation Green Programme. Manager Kate Lemon said: "We were overwhelmed with the high standard of entries – it's truly inspiring to see how passionate they are about energy and the world they are growing up in.

"The children have created a fantastic, innovative story."

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

THE cheapest unit of energy is the one you don't use. So says nPower chief executive Paul Massara, who says we should respond to his company's extortionate price rises by using less energy.

It's an interesting strategy. Could you imagine the chief executive of Tesco telling us to stop moaning about the 10 per cent increase in the price of potatoes, and instead just don't buy so many?

It would be lovely if the people of Britain took him at his word, and imposed their own three-day week just to hit him in the balance sheet. But it wouldn't work. He would then use the drop in revenues as an excuse to impose another round of price hikes.

THE story about young William Ghassemi, the Staffordshire schoolboy who dressed up as Hitler after being told to come as a character from the Second World War, tells us a great deal about a small but vocal section of the modern education system.

How can you tell kids to dress up as characters from the Second World War, and then be surprised when one turns up as the bloke who started it? But amid all the sound and fury coming from both sides of the debate, somebody seems to have overlooked the most fundamental question of all: what is it with schools today and dressing up?

It seems no primary school history lesson these days is complete without a raid on the dressing-up box. Lessons about the English Civil War? Knee-high boots, and plumes of feathers, naturally. The Tudors? Big belts and floppy hats, of course.

Apparently, they call it 'empathy', so I suppose it is probably just as well that they draw the line at empathising with one of the biggest mass murderers of the modern times.

But how does dressing up teach anyone anything about history? Imagine the scene, 30 years from now, when today's youngsters try to explain the Second World War to their own children.

"Daddy, who were the Nazis?"

"Son, they were the bad guys. They wore Hugo Boss."

SO Birmingham City Council is planning to introduce a 20mph speed limit to 90 per cent of the city. Good to see that this forward-thinking local authority wants to make to make the city an attractive place to do business, by making it easy for visitors to get around quickly.

No doubt, as we speak, there are elected members and officials in Birmingham's council offices, salivating at all the exciting new things they can do with red asphalt, chicanes and yellow paint.

They probably needn't bother, though. As anybody who has driven through Birmingham at busy times will no doubt testify: 20mph? Fat chance.

The RAF veteran stands next to the Anderson Shelter which was erected in the garden at the property

Jack was just one when his parents moved in

The house in Webster Road during the 1920s

Home is where the heart is for Jack, 86

CHARLOTTE LILLEY talks to Jack Haddock who has lived in his Walsall semi-detached home for the past 85 years

THERE is no place like home for pensioner Jack Haddock who is still living in the same house he moved to as a baby boy in the 1920s.

The RAF veteran, who is now 86 years old, loves his semi-detached property in Walsall so much he even split up with his girlfriend when she suggested they move into a house down the road.

He has lived in the same house on Webster Road ever since he was aged just one when his parents, Jack Senior and Florence, moved there in 1928.

And he even uses the same appliances his parents used in the 1930s, including a wireless radio on which his family heard the news the Second World War had been declared. He has also converted an old Anderson air-raid shelter, which he and his family used when German bombers flew over, into a shed.

Lucky

Mr Haddock, who has never married and has no children, said he loves living in his home, which is owned by the local housing association, and has no plans to move.

"I'm very attached to this house and I love living here," he said. "I know lots of people in this community and would hate to move from this house. It's always been a decent area and a lot of people have lived here a long time.

"I consider myself very lucky to have lived here, where so much has gone on over the years. I suppose I take being here for granted.

"I was tempted to get married once, in the 1970s or 80s, but I had mother-in-law trouble. She and my girlfriend wanted me to move to The Delves, but I opted against it because I wanted to stay here. I cut it dead and that was the reason."

Mr Haddock was born in nearby Hospital Street in September 1927 and his parents paid a weekly rent of seven shillings and 11p when they moved into the house a year later.

The only time he moved away was when he joined the RAF as a driver at the end of the war and went to live in the south of the country for five years. When he returned, he worked as a motor mechanic and went into the metal trade, starting his own firm repairing antiques before retiring in his 50s. He added: "My father worked on the trams in the 1920s and was one of the first people to apply for a council house in Walsall.

"To get a house, he had references from the local vicar, the tram depot and the Royal Artillery in which he served during the First World War, but he was missing a crucial requirement – a child.

"I was brought into the world and my parents were given a tenancy at a new council house in Webster Road, a few streets from where I was born, for a weekly rent of 7s 11d. I've lived here ever since, apart from my five years in the RAF after the Second World War.

"At the time we moved in, it was quite modern and state of the art, although of course we all had coal fires then and the bathroom was downstairs. My earliest memories are of steam trains roaring past our house on the way to Ryecroft Engine Shed, which is now Mill Lane Nature Reserve.

"My parents passed away in 1958 and I carried on living here. My father never missed a day's rent and I've always kept up with the payments." The house was built by Walsall Council for just £295 and is now owned by Walsall Housing Group. Over the years, it has seen a number of improvements. It was upgraded as part of the Decent Homes programme introduced in 2000. Mr Haddock, who has never smoked and keeps fit by cycling 20 miles every day, still visits the grocery shop he has used since the 1930s, when it was run by a man named Joseph Venables.

He said: "It was an institution because he ran the shop in true Victorian fashion."

His long life at his home has now been turned into a book – The Home That Jack Built – by Walsall Housing Group analyst Rob Hunter.

It celebrates Mr Haddock's life as one of the town's most long-standing residents and uses photographs taken over 85 years.

THROUGH THE YEARS

1983...

HOLIDAY giant Butlin's was to close two of its most famous sites, it was announced. The huge flagship holiday park at Filey, Yorkshire, which had room for 11,000 visitors, and its site at Clacton, Essex would close with immediate effect, said chairman Bobby Butlin. The move followed years of falling bookings.

A WAGES snatch was thwarted by a quick-thinking team of dustmen and a motorcyclist, a court heard. The binmen hurled missiles at the robbers while the biker pursued the getaway car at high speed to record its registration number, following the robbery at Econa Castings in Fox's Lane, Wolverhampton.

WOLVES were adamant that they would go ahead with their controversial Sunday afternoon clash with Aston Villa, despite threats of prosecution over a breach of Sunday trading laws.

1993...

BUS drivers were threatening an all-out strike in a row over compensation about having to move to a garage just over a mile away. Union leaders said the row at Wolverhampton bus garage could cripple services in the area. The threat came after West Midlands Travel refused to pay compensation to workers moved from the Cleveland Road depot to Park Lane, Fallings Park.

COLOURFUL former judge James Pickles blamed exhaustion for his bizarre appearance on breakfast television, where he became involved in a heated discussion with presenters Mike Morris and Anne Davies, and was eventually sent home in a taxi. During his appearance on GMTV, Judge Pickles said he had tried to kiss Miss Davies, said the station could not afford competent staff.

ILLUSIONIST David Blaine emerged from his glass box suspended on the banks of the River Thames after 44 days apparently living on water. He was put on a stretcher before being taken to a waiting ambulance, where he was taken to a private hospital for treatment. Speculation was rife about how he had managed a seemingly impossible stunt. Doctors said if he ate solid food so soon after emerging from the box, it could be potentially fatal.

A TEENAGE tearaway who led a gang that terrorised residents on a Cannock estate complained he couldn't make ends meet, despite being put up rent free at Rugeley's Travelodge since being freed from custody.

PATIENTS and staff at Wolverhampton's New Cross hospital were left without heating and hot water after an underground steam valve blew.

Jail term for robber who stole cash as victim slept

A ROBBER who smashed his way into a man's home and stole money as he slept has been jailed for nearly four years.

Ross Tarbuck was in bed asleep when a lump of concrete was hurled through the glass of his front door in Cannock in the early hours, a court heard.

At least two men entered his home and one of them, Mark Manning, demanded money 'or I'll knock you around the flat'.

Mr Stephen Redmond, prosecuting, said Manning picked up a pair of jeans and took £100 from a pocket. The defendant then left with a warning to the victim not to call police. "You don't know who did this," said Manning.

But the crime was reported and two days later, on July 6 last year, officers went to arrest Manning. He escaped by jumping over a fence and was at large for two days.

Licence

The 26-year-old, of Princess Street, Chadsmoor, admitted robbery and escape from lawful custody. Stafford Crown Court heard that he committed the offences while out on licence from a 42-month jail term.

Judge Paul Glenn said: "You went to Mr Tarbuck's flat when he was asleep. There were two or three of you, entry was forced.

"You demanded his money, you took his cash and left. This was a planned group offence in the early hours of the morning."

Miss Joanne Clark, defending, said Manning had been drinking all day. It had been an opportunistic offence, no weapon was used and minimal threats made, she claimed. He was jailed for 45 months.

Photographer's Up for success in competition

Darron Matthews of, Norton Canes, won a car in a photographic competition for this stunning picture of a common blue damselfly

A PHOTOGRAPHER has won an international award for a stunning close-up shot.

Darron Matthews took the shot of a common blue damselfly while photographing wildlife in his garden in Norton Canes.

He entered the Heartbeat of Nature contest and within weeks was told he had finished in the top 100 out of 12,000 entries. Mr Matthews said he was 'amazed' to be invited to the final ceremony in Zingst, Germany.

"I knew I had taken a good photo but I never expected to win the competition," said the 48-year-old. Mr Matthews, a carpenter from Woodfield Close, won a new Volkswagen Up car.

Who is real spokesman on issue of Ivy House?

I READ with surprise the comments of Janos Toth, Labour Councillor and Parliamentary Candidate over the fight to save the Ivy House.

He stated: 'It is of significant historic value to both Cannock and the United Kingdom.'

Surely he is in conversation with Councillor Muriel Davis, portfolio holder for health at Cannock Chase District Council and spokesperson on such matters? She might take a different perspective.

In a recent conversation with myself and other councillors, Councillor Davis said she fully supported the demolition of the Ivy House and the site's redevelopment. She believed there was no place for sentimentality on such matters.

It would be nice to know who is the real council spokesperson on this issue.

PAUL SNAPE
Conservative Leader
Cannock Chase Council

It should not be a done deal

WE always knew that there would be renewed efforts to bulldoze the Ivy House and that our attempts to save it would be thwarted.

The officers of Staffordshire County Council should hang their heads in shame as they have consistently refused to allow us to engage in any discussions about the fate of this treasured building.

Even our locally elected councillors have been silenced whenever the subject was raised at meetings. They have been aware for at least three years that Social Services would be moving out, but in all that time have made no attempt to advertise it on the open market. According to the local Press, the county council has now decided to rent out other disused buildings such as police stations, so why not this one?

This should not be a done deal. We need to convince our councillors that this building is important to the heritage of Cannock and Staffordshire. We have so few buildings of character and grace left in the area.

If this were in any other town in the country, the powers that be would be putting a blue plaque on it and throwing it open to the public as a museum.

There's a way out of this mess

I HESITATE to argue with Helen of Hednesford, but for her to suggest that the only outcome for this country is financial collapse is somewhat defeatist.

She is right, the country is in a mess, the Con/Lib coalition has increased the massive debt created by the Labour confidence tricksters and we are constantly shovelling money into the bottomless pit of the EU. Yet there is an answer.

Get out of the EU, keep the Common Market free trade agreements and trade with the whole world as we did before our politicians decided we were useless on our own.

If Whitehall gets off our back, lets us keep more of our money and stops wasting it on HS2, speed humps and so on, we can get ourselves out of the mess.

All we need is for politicians to stop throwing our hard earned money away, set us free and we will climb out of the hole they dug for us.

Issue of green belt and village identity

I SINCERELY hope that Mrs Foster (Letters, October 10) is in the minority concerning the proposed new housing development by Mr Lees and family.

Whether people have lived in the village for three months, three years or 30 years is not the issue here. It is the fact that the proposed sites are, as I understand it, on green belt land? Are we to have no green areas left?

Also, if I am living in a house built by Mr Lees, then, trust me, we've paid for it with hard work and determination. There is also the issue of village identity, because if this development goes ahead we will not have Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay but one big housing development.

Annual concert was a great night all round

CANNOCK'S very own national treasure, the 50-strong Cannock Chase Orpheus Male Choir, performed to a packed house at their annual concert.

The event, which also featured funnyman/compere Doug Parker and local soprano Sharron Burns, took place at Hednesford's Aquarius Ballroom.

The mix of the evening was just right. There was something for everyone from the choir: classics such as One Day More from Les Mis, a 60s set, love songs and the wonderful upbeat Rhythm of Life.

The talented Sharron Burns also entertained with a varied set from the comic to classic and in between.

Doug Parker has funny bones. He is simply hilarious. He kept up a barrage of one-liners and observational humour, involving the audience in his act. Self-deprecating, but sharp as a knife, he had the audience laughing until they hurt. Brilliant. A great night all round.

WE should not worry about the future of the Ivy House! Vote for another Conservative Government and we'll soon have brand new workhouses. They just haven't thought about it yet. No council houses, no jobs, no benefits under 25 and so on.

Tories equivalent to a political Arthur Daley

THATCHERISM is back. Part of Royal Mail has been sold off cheaply and, like most of Thatcher's sell-offs, gas, electric and water, will end up owned by foreign companies who appear to charge whatever they wish.

This so-called coalition is just carrying on from where Thatcher left off. The NHS is surely their next target?

I only hope the voters realise why they are paying these disgusting high energy bills, and who is to blame.

This Tory party are the Arthur Daleys of British politics, and I certainly would not buy a car from Cameron or Osborn and their gang.

That's handy, man as Richard on road again

Richard Guest will take part in the Great South Run this weekend to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support

A HANDYMAN is pounding the streets again this weekend in a bid to add to his fundraising total.

Richard Guest, a seasoned runner and a handyman for Cannock estate agents Cross & Co, has already clocked up more than 450 miles this year and recently completed his eighth marathon in Berlin. He will run the Paris Marathon next April, but on Sunday takes part in the Great South run to boost the amount he has raised for cancer charities.

He will be among the 250,000 entrants in the 10-mile run which starts in Portsmouth.

Since losing his wife to cancer, Richard, of Great Wyrley, has collected cash for both Macmillan Cancer Support and Breakthrough Breast Cancer.

He said: "I feel a great sense of achievement when completing these marathons as I remember exactly why I am doing this."

HGVs targeted by vandals

VANDALS have slashed the sides of lorries in a spate of attacks. The liveries of HGVs were cut on the northbound M6 Hilton Park service station near Cannock.

A search of the area was launched but no one was found. Now officers are urging drivers to be on their guard.

Officers were called out to the service station overnight between Wednesday and Thursday last week following reports of two men lurking in the car park at around 1.05am.

With assistance from the Dog Support Unit, an extensive search was conducted but no one was located.

Curtain

However officers found that damage had been caused to several lorries parked at the services with the curtain sides being cut open. Nothing is believed to have been stolen.Police are now stepping up patrols. Officers from Staffordshire Police, and the Central Motorway Police Group will be carrying out high visibility patrols of services along the M6 corridor.

Anyone with information is asked to call Sgt Tim Heap at Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 15 of October 17.

Or they can contact Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Remembrance service details are announced

BRIDGTOWN'S annual Remembrance parade, organised by the Royal Engineers Association, takes place on Sunday November 3, one week prior to the official Remembrance Day. Assembly is at 10am at the junction of Park Street and Union Street. The parade will march off at 10.15am.

The Salvation Army Band will lead the gathering to the War Memorial where a short service, including the reading of the Roll of Honour will be held.

The Last Post will be played, followed by a moment of silence, before the sounding of Reveille and laying of wreaths. The parade will arrive at Bethel Chapel at 10.50am for a full service.

Spider fears prompt plea from wildlife trust bosses

WILDLIFE bosses fear harmless spider species are being targeted by people mistaking them for the noble false widow.

Conservation charity Staffordshire Wildlife Trust stress there have been no verified sightings of the noble false widow in the county. It says that even if the public were to find one, the spider is not dangerous.

Harmless spiders are being hurt amid false widow fears

Females lay up to 120 eggs at a time and a bite can trigger a fatal allergic reaction, although most people will suffer swelling and pain.

It is the most dangerous of more than 600 species in the UK and is said to be 'extremely abundant' in some places.

Properly labelled Steatoda nobilis, the spider is known for its penchant for the female to eat the male after mating.

Refrain

County spider recorder Craig Slawson, based at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust, said: "The noble false widow spider has not been recorded in Staffordshire and there have been no verified sightings. I am concerned that other species could be suffering because of people's fears about false widow spiders, and would ask that they refrain from harming them."

The noble false widow spider has actually been in the UK for 170 years and there have been no fatalities resulting from bites.

Mr Slawson is happy to identify any species of spider from pictures taken by the public.

Photographs, along with details about when and where the spider was seen and the sender's contact details, can be sent to enquiries@staffs-ecology.org.uk

Hollyoaks star to join the cast of town panto

FORMER Hollyoaks star Darren Langford will star in this year's panto at the Prince of Wales Centre.

The actor, who played Spencer Gray in the soap opera, will star as the Emperor of China in Aladdin, produced by PMA Productions.

Langford also has a long list of theatre credits to his name, appearing in productions of Macbeth and Romeo and Juliet as well as previous panto appearances in Mother Goose and Cinderella.

This will be the first time he has worked with PMA and his first time performing in Cannock.

The panto, which also sees the return of Keith DeWinter as Widow Twankey and Rugeley's Studio 5 Dancers, will be officially launched tomorrow (Friday).

For showtimes and ticket details, call the Church Street theatre's box office on 01543 578762 or book online at boxoffice.wlct.org

Burglary charge

A MAN has appeared before Cannock magistrates charged with attempted robbery at Nisa, in Cannock Road, Chadsmoor. Elvan Silahsor, 26, of Harden Road, Bloxwich, is also charged with burglary in Bath Road on the same day, October 12. He was remanded in custody until a Stafford Crown Court preliminary hearing on January 10.

Pedestrian is knocked down at busy stretch

A BUSY main road in Cannock was closed by police after a man was knocked down during rush hour. The victim in his 20s suffered facial injuries and was taken to hospital.

Police and ambulances were called to the A34 Ringway in Cannock at the back of Cannock Shopping Centre.

The stretch of the road heading towards Huntington was blocked off by police while the man was treated by paramedics.

It caused traffic chaos in the town from 4.30pm on Wednesday, October 16, when it happened, until 5pm when the road reopened.

Pots of fun as guest speaker entertains

GREAT WYRLEY TG

THE September and October meetings were very well attended despite the holiday season.

After the usual business and refreshments had been served, the members at the September meeting were entertained by the South Staffs TWG choir.

They were treated to a varied genre of songs including a wonderful duet sung by director of music Pauline Benton and Diane Gunn, of the Welsh lullaby Suo Gan. The choir, formed 25 years ago, has 40 regular members from different branches of the South Staffs TWG.

The choir have recently produced a CD of their songs and on December 7 will be singing at the Carol Concert in Coventry Cathedral.

October's speaker was Sue Plant.

She spoke about her late father Jack Plant, a Japanese Prisoner of War who died at the age of 92.

Sue brought along some of her father's mementoes including his medals which contained a decoration consisting of a single oak leaf in bronze, which was awarded to Service Personnel who were mentioned in Dispatches.

Jack initiated and organised the building of a memorial at the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas to all who had died in the construction of the Sumatra railway 56 years earlier.

Guest speaker David Bartley during his talk on Staffordshire pottery at Hayes Green WI meeting

HAYES GREEN WI

THE October meeting began with a warm welcome from president Sandy Hobbs. Elaine Smith read the minutes and Eva gave the financial statement.

Mrs Hobbs introduced the speaker David Bartley, who entertained and informed those present with his extensive knowledge and obvious passion for his subject 'Staffordshire Pottery.'

David has more than 800 reference books and has been collecting rare items for years – examples of which he brought along.

The competition, 'a pot', was won by Sue, Diane and Mabel. David showed how to identify, date and value their items. Diane gave the vote of thanks.

Hayes Green will be hosting the Heathside Group Meeting tonight (October 24). The raffle was won by Maureen.

At the meeting on November 6 at St John's Church Hall, Heath Hayes, Trevor Ellis will speak about "Pearls".

Induction of new member

CANNOCK SOROPTIMISTS

CANNOCK Soroptimists were delighted to welcome a new member at their September business meeting.

She is the Rev Elizabeth Frondigoun, who many people know from her ministry in Cannock at St Luke's Church.

Team President Lakhwinder Thompson inducted Mrs Frondigoun as a Soroptimist. In return, she thanked the club for their warm welcome and told members she was looking forward to working with them on their projects supporting women and children.

A recent coffee morning raised £260 for the Oxfam bucket appeal. Members were also asked to bring cakes along to the next meeting – these will be taken to St Giles Hospice.

They also watched a DVD produced by the Prison Reform Trust which highlights the need for provision other than prison for women offenders. Soroptimists are working with the Prison Reform Trust on this issue.

Extension at cemetery to allow extra 1,200 plots

A FURTHER 1,200 plots are set to be added to a cemetery in Rugeley to allow it to hold burials in the years to come.

Cannock Chase Council is planning on spending up to £300,000 on the extension of Stile Cop Cemetery.

Work is set to begin in spring of next year.

There are also plans to add a further 15 car parking spaces at the site in Stile Cop Road bringing the total number of bays up from 25 to 40.

Provision for motorbikes and bicycles will also be made available.

Granted

A series of woodland and landscaping areas will be created which the council says could be used by people for 'remembrance, contemplation and reflection'.

Cannock Chase Council's cabinet has already granted funding for the scheme.

The proposals will now be reviewed by the planning department and committee.

If given the go-ahead, the six-figure project would take around six months to complete. Councillor Christine Mitchell, portfolio holder for culture and sport, said:

by Kirsten Rawlins

"We're hoping to get started on the work by early next year, but that depends on weather conditions.

"We have now submitted a planning application to complete the work.

"We need this extension because we've ran out of space at Cannock cemetery.

"We want to be able to provide spaces for all people across the district, so we chose to extend Stile Cop Cemetery while we look for another site for Cannock.

"The new cemetery and Stile Cop is open to all in the district.

"This a much-welcomed development that will help us to meet the needs for the next decade."

New access roads to the Rugeley cemetery are also included in the plans, as well as the construction of new pavements.

Group young at art

Artists from Great Wyrley Art Club get ready for their annual exhibition at Great Wyrley Community Centre

A TALENTED painting its annual exhibition this weekend. Great Wyrley Art Group has members spanning four decades – with the oldest in her 90s.

Their work will be on show at the village community centre in Landywood Lane on Saturday, from 10am to 4pm.

Chairman Peter Dibble said places in the group were so sought-after that there was a waiting list.

"Basically members enjoy it so much that one of them has to leave before another can take their place," he said.

"There is no specific teacher, we do our own thing, but there are a lot of experienced people in the group and they are always happy to give advice."

Among the 26 members are Ann Hackett, who teaches art at evening classes at Great Wyrley High School and Joan Roberts. The group meets every Thursday from 12.30-2.30pm. This year it celebrates its 10th anniversary.

Mr Dibble said the exhibition catered for a wide variety of tastes. It included portraits, landscapes, still-life pieces and abstracts in pastels, watercolours, acrylics and oils. Visitors will be able to buy some of the art with prices ranging from around £20 up to £150.

The group completes its anniversary celebrations with a Christmas gathering at the Terrace restaurant in Brownhills.

New owner at helm as pub set to reopen

New owner Doug Wilkinson at the Shoal Hill Tavern, in Sandy Lane, Cannock, which will reopen tomorrow

A PUB which had faced being converted to housing is reopening tomorrow (Friday) following a £200,000 revamp.

The Shoal Hill Tavern in Cannock will reopen after it was shut for refurbishment for just under four weeks.

A new bar, flooring and furniture have been installed and owner Doug Wilkinson, who also owns the Red Lion pub in Rugeley, says he wants to restore the Sandy Lane venue to its former glory. He said: "Thwaites Brewery had considered turning it into a house because of the way pubs have been going recently and it wasn't doing well."

The 54-year-old, who used to run the U-Bar in Cannock, added: "I'm hoping with this major investment we can bring it back to how it used to be – a well-known pub for both food and drink."

The pub will reopen its doors at 6pm on Friday. Food from the new menu will be served from midday on Saturday.

Guilty plea on store raids

A THIRD man has pleaded guilty to conspiracy to rob Co-Op stores across Staffordshire and the Midlands region.

Amandeep Singh, aged 25, from Salisbury Road, Birchfield, Birmingham, was due to stand trial at Stafford Crown Court on Monday but pleaded guilty beforehand. He will now be sentenced alongside his co-accused Ryan Landon Shaw, aged 20, from Sedgebourne Way, Northfield in Birmingham, who had previously admitted nine offences of conspiracy to rob and Jani Joseph Wright, aged 25, of Conybere Street, Birmingham, who also previously admitted 10 offences of conspiracy to rob.

They will all be sentenced at the same court on Monday, December 2. All three men were charged in connection with 15 robberies at Co-Op stores across the Midlands during a ten-month period last year, including the one in Landywood Lane, Cheslyn Hay on April 26.

Shaw and Wright were arrested in Bridgnorth on October 31. Singh was arrested the following day in Bartley Green, Birmingham.

Top voluntary prize goes to county's biggest club

Bill Hickenbottom (right), founder of Wyrley Juniors FC, receives the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service from Lord Lieutenant Ian Dudson. Also pictured are his wife Jane Dudson and members of the under-9s panthers

THE biggest amateur football club in Staffordshire has been presented with the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

Wyrley Juniors FC was presented with the award at its clubhouse in Long Lane, Essington, by the Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire Ian Dudson.

The club, which has been running for 31 years, has more than 40 teams and 600 players.

Officials said they were delighted to receive the Queen's Award, which is a tremendous accolade for the club's 100-plus volunteers.

Bill Hickenbottom, president, treasurer and founder, picked up the crystal award. A scroll was awarded to long-serving club member Trevor Smith.

Delighted

Brian Adshead, Staffordshire FA chief executive, also gave a speech on the importance of clubs such as Wyrley Juniors FC in the development of youth football.

Chairman Keith Hardy said: "We provide football facilities for anyone who wants to play. The club is delighted with this award.

"We hope to keep growing our players and teams in the future."

Mr Hardy was also one of the club members who attended a garden party at Buckingham Palace in the summer as part of the award recognition.

The club also runs academies for boys and girls. This year, it was chosen by the Staffordshire FA as the FA Charter Standard Community Club of the Year for the fifth time in 10 years.

Food glorious food donated by school

Chase Grammar School pupils with some of the food donated for the Harvest Festival

FOOD glorious food was the theme at Chase Grammar School's Harvest Festival assembly.

Students and parents gave generously as the tables took the strain of the weight of the food donated. The Sixth Form, which was giving the assembly, reminded the school that too much food is wasted as a society, costing the average family with children £680.

The food will be passed to local charity Addiction Dependency Solutions who regularly have to give out food parcels to people having difficulties and who cannot afford to buy enough food to feed their families.

Work on new bridge could start in weeks

WORK on a new raised railway bridge as part of the £30 million electrification of the Chase Line could start within weeks.

The £3m project at Broad Lane, Bloxwich, is a key part of the scheme and final designs are being worked on by Network Rail.

by Mark Mudie

A road closure will be in place for around three months, sparking fears of extra congestion.

Head of Engineering and Transportation Steve Pretty told a Regeneration Scrutiny and Performance Panel meeting last Thursday that work was imminent.

Design

He said: "They would like to start work very shortly and agree a design to meet the highway's authority's needs.

"The road and safety for passengers and pedestrians will be vastly improved. The road will be closed for 12 weeks with work expected to start in two to three weeks."

Chairman of the panel, Councillor Louise Harrison said she was disappointed the designs were not already agreed.

She said: "Work is going to start in November and we still haven't got designs."

But she added: "As councillor for that area I would not be happy with something that is not far superior than is there already and it has got to be made safe."

Mr Pretty said the work was an 'opportunity' to make the area safer and better.

Twenty-four railway bridges will either be rebuilt or modified as part of the electrification of the Chase Line, which is due to be completed by 2017.

It will see the installation of 15 miles of overhead cables. Diesel trains will also be replaced by electric ones.

Prizes up for grabs at club's Halloween party

A RUGELEY club is holding a fancy dress party with prizes up for grabs. Rugeley Progressive Working Men's Club, Mansefield House, is hosting the Halloween disco and fancy dress event on Friday, November 1, from 8.30pm. Everyone is welcome. Entry is £1.

On November 15, a Bon Jovi tribute act takes the stage at the Market Street club. Tickets are £6, or £8 on the door. It starts at 8pm.

A mince pie quiz in aid of Macmillan cancer Support is being hosted in the club lounge on Wednesday, November 27. Teams of four are invited at a cost of £2.50 each. It starts at 7.30pm.

Cheque presented by charitable Lions

Lion Brian Ward with Pat Wolfe, Lion Thelma Ward and Dennis Spencer at the Portacabin in Beecroft Road

CANNOCK Lions Club have presented a £250 cheque to help support the Pye Green South and Communities Portacabin on Beecroft Road car cark, in Cannock.

The Portacabin was started five and a half years ago by Rugeley Lions Club and has provided more than 25,000 packed lunches to vulnerable and needy people of Cannock. It is now run by Cannock Rotary with assistance from Lion Thelma Ward.

Volunteer Pat Wolfe said: "We are extremely grateful to Cannock Lions Club for their very generous donation. We are reliant on funding to continue helping people in need in Cannock."

The Portacabin is open on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from noon to 1.30pm.

Knockout night is on the cards for boxing fans

FIGHT fans are in for a knockout night of entertainment as a Cannock sports bar hosts a top evening of amateur boxing.

The Premier Suite, at Bar Sport, in High Green, is the venue for the Premier Boxing Gala Dinner Show on Thursday November 14 with boxing clubs from all over the Midlands set to take part.

The black tie event is held twice a year and always proves to be a huge hit with boxing fans and businessmen. It will feature eight Amateur Boxing Association (ABA) fights.

The evening will also include a five-course meal and comedy entertainment from Ollie Spencer. Sky's Mike Goodall will be master of ceremonies and there will be the usual glamour from the ring girls from gentleman's club Legs 11.

Bar Sport and Premier Suite owner Scott Murray, himself a top amateur heavyweight boxer, said: "The Boxing Gala Dinner Shows always prove to be extremely popular.

Categories

"We will be staging 10 Midlands counties amateur fights on the night of all weight categories culminating in a heavyweight bout."

Tickets on the night which include the five course meal start from £45 or £55 ringside and the event begins at 7pm.

For tickets, call 01543 572092 or email info@premier-suite.co.uk

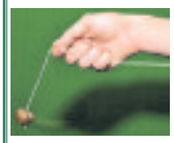
Pupils swing into action for a big conkers revival

How to play the game

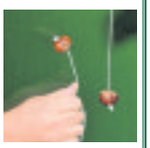


The set

The best conkers are uncracked, firm and symmetrical. Make a hole through the middle, thread a piece of string about 25cm long through and tie. Wrap the string round your hand before taking the conker ready to strike.

The Hit

The person whose conker is getting hit lets it hang down from the string which is wrapped round their hand. The conker is held at the height their opponent chooses and is held perfectly still.



Snags

If the strings tangle, the first player to call 'strings' or 'snags' gets an extra shot. If a player hits his or her opponent's conker in such a way that it completes a whole circle, the player gets another go.

Stamps

If a player drops his or her conker, or it is knocked out of his hand the other player can shout 'stamps' and jump on it. However, should the fallen conker's owner first cry 'no stamps' then it should remain safe from the boot.

Winner

The game goes on in turns until one or other of the two conkers is destroyed. A victorious conker assumes the score of all its victim's preceding foes. If a sixer beats a fiver it becomes an elevener.

IT'S THE 'bonkers' ban which brought to a head the national debate about health and safety 'gone mad'.

The decision taken by scores of schools to outlaw conkers from the playground – amid concerns about nut allergies as well as injuries in combat – sparked a public outcry.

But with almost 200 competitors who last week descended on the World Conker Championships in Northamptonshire, schools in the Black Country and Staffordshire are reviving the popular pastime as they host their own contests.

And the goggles favoured by some safety first headteachers will be left behind as our school leaders prefer to simply have staff supervise the games.

Norton Canes Primary pupils

Tradition

Toni Beech, acting headteacher at Pinfold Street Primary School in Wednesbury, said: "We don't have a conker policy.

If some children wanted to bring them in to school we would set up a supervised area at lunchtime. I do think it is a shame that it is a dying tradition."

Gary Gentle, headteacher at Bilston Church of England Primary School in Albany Crescent, Bilston, said: "We are certainly not going to ban conkers here. The age of innocence is very much alive and kicking at this school.

And headteacher of Norton Canes Primary School, Paul Whitacre, has confirmed the school is continuing its traditional annual conker competition again in 2013.

Conkers hit the headlines in 2009 when then opposition leader David Cameron called for an end to what he saw as an overly cautious attitude to games and pastimes which had once been national institutions.

Then in 2011 a report revealed games like conkers and British bulldogs were disappearing from school playgrounds amid health and safety concerns. The survey by the Association of Teachers and Lecturers found games like tag and marbles were also getting banned, with headteachers blaming the reduced number of staff available to supervise pupils.

At Devonshire Infants School in Smethwick, deputy headteacher Sharon Gibson said a risk assessment is carried out to make sure games are safe for pupils. She added: "We have organised conker competitions in the past which are supervised."

At the worst possible time, your loved ones could be left with the financial burden and worry of paying for your funeral. And recent reports have shown the cost is rising.
Here at George Stacey we can replace that worry with a simple and straightforward, low cost monthly funeral plan.

- A thoughtful and caring thing to do
- One less thing for your loved ones to worry about
- You decide what's right for you
- Advance planning ensures your wishes are respected
- Anyone over 18 years of age can take out a plan, no maximum age limit or medical examination
- A Funeral Plan created by you by your local independent funeral director

EATING OUT

Pub chiefs carve out £200,000 new look

The Toby Carvery – formerly The Turf – on the A5 in Norton Canes

The refurbished interior at the Toby Carvery

DAVE Blakeway is a man with a passion. For his job, and for the staff that work for him.

Traditionally brought in by pub bosses in times of trouble, Dave has settled into his role as Toby Carvery manager in Norton Canes so much that he is now moving permanently to the area. Dave has previously been drafted in to perform a trouble-shooting role at a host of different hostelries.

He has now been at the helm at the A5 restaurant – formerly The Turf – for three years, increasing staff numbers, with 38 now employed at the Watling Street restaurant. More importantly guest numbers have also risen.

Bosses have spent £200,000 on refurbishing the carvery, one of 185 such establishments across the country, and the changes have not only made a difference to its outlook. Customer numbers have increased and there is a general feelgood factor about the whole place.

Bookings

It is lighter and more spacious, the carvery area has been made more prominent, booths have been introduced for private dining and there are so many hidey-holes and nooks and crannies for people to enjoy their meals in peace. That said, there is plenty of space for party bookings and an area for those wishing just to drink.

The big secret of its success is its food, of course. A four-meat carvery, with gammon, pork, turkey and beef, giant Yorkshire puddings and a selection of vegetables to choose from for just £6.99, and there's no need to wait for your food to be served.

Diners can also add mini-Yorkshire puddings and even honey and mustard chipolatas. There's an a la carte menu, as well as selection of starters and vegetarian options. And there's an all-you-can eat breakfast for £3.99.

My partner and I enjoyed the roast and trimmings, so it would have been rude not to finish with a dessert as well, a jam roly poly for the better half and a blackberry and apple crumble for myself.

Prepared

For Dave, the whole operation runs like a well-oiled machine, with all staff knowing their jobs and being ever-prepared for any number of guests or eventualities.

"I love what I do, I'm passionate about what I do, but I can't do it on my own. We thrive on making our guests welcome and seeing them come back," he said.

The Toby runs chef schools for young children to learn about fresh food and healthy eating. Any school wishing to take part can call 01543 373292.

The Toby Carvery is open for breakfast from 9am to 11am Monday to Saturday and until 10.30am on Sundays. The carvery is available until 10pm each day, from noon on Monday to Saturday and from 11.30pm on Sundays.

Licensing hours are from 11am each day.

School flies flag for foreign languages

Wolgarston High School staff and pupils celebrate the European Day of Languages

STAFF and students got into national costumes, tasted foods from around the world and had a go at speaking a range of foreign tongues at an event to celebrate the European Day of Languages.

Teachers, support staff and pupils turned up in a weird and wonderful variety of costumes at Wolgarston High School, Penkridge, ranging from a Wild West cowgirl to a Napoleonic outfit.

The day was organised by head of the languages department Crispian Audouin and his team.

The school offers language courses in French and Spanish at GSCE, AS and A Level, but to mark the language event the library staff spent the day speaking German, and learning support unit pupils and staff explored Icelandic language and culture.

Exchange students visiting the Cannock Road school, including Lorenzo Felicetti, from Italy, Mathilde Assennat, from France, Valentina Benavides, from Mexico and Tereza Simova, from the Czech Republic, joined in the fun.

"It was a fabulous day in which we all celebrated cultural diversity in a fun and positive way," a spokesman said.

Supported

And Wolgarston's autumn term diary of fun events continued with a danceathon in aid of Save the Children, supported by the entire school.

Thefive-hour danceathon was organised by teacher Carly Edwards and Year 10 GCSE dance pupils, who raised £150.

Wolgarston hosts a number of dance, performing arts and music events throughout the year. Plans are in the pipeline for a major dance event involving not only Wolgarston students, but also showcasing youngsters from all of the middle schools in the surrounding area.

Gymnast Tamzin out to rule world

Tamzin Hughes, aged nine, of Cannock, celebrates winning a 2013 regional gymnastics competition

A YOUNG gymnast with aspirations of one day competing in the Olympics has made it into the national finals – only two years after taking up the sport.

Tamzin Hughes, a pupil at Five Ways Primary in Heath Hayes, competes in the artistic section, doing vault, floor, beam and bars. She came first in the regional heats and will now compete nationally in Guildford, Surrey on November 3. If she finishes in the top 10 she could be in with the chance of being selected for the Great British gymnastics squad.

The nine-year-old's mother, Sallyann Harper, said: "She wants to get into the GB squad. It's the first time she's ever made it into the nationals."

Tamzin, who lives in Wimblebury, Cannock, came out on top competing in the regionals held at the GMAC centre in Birmingham against 40 other youngsters.

Historic tram line is dug up by volunteers

AN old tram route which played an important part in the development of Rugeley more than 100 years ago has been uncovered.

Volunteers working alongside the Trent & Mersey Canal have been working with the Canal & River Trust over the past year to improve the area around the 'Bloody Steps' in Rugeley.

by Laura Blyth

While clearing overgrown shrubs and greenery from the area they uncovered the remains of a tramway that linked the canal with the nearby water works.

In the early 20th century there was a canal wharf at the Bloody Steps and it is thought the tramway would have been built to supply coal arriving by canal to the steam engine at the water works.

Heritage

The volunteers have been keeping the area clear while a full heritage assessment of the site takes place.

Over time, it is hoped the line of the tramway can be marked so people can see how the area might have looked and understand the role the canal played in daily life.

Tom Woodcock, heritage adviser for the Canal & River Trust, said: "The tramway is a very useful find as it adds to the picture of life in Rugeley over 100 years ago. We already know the very colourful history of the canal but this discovery tells us a little more about how the canal contributed to day-to-day life in the town.

"The volunteers have been doing a brilliant job to look after the canal and this discovery is a great reward for their hard work."

Margaret Beardsmore, work party co-ordinator for the Inland Waterways Association, added: "The volunteers are really enjoying their work as a local 'Time Team' and uncovering a previously unknown heritage gem."

The Bloody Steps got their name from the gruesome murder of Christina Collins in 1839. She was travelling to join her husband in London but was brutally murdered by the boat crew and her body carried up the steps.

Loyalty scheme at store

CUSTOMERS can take advantage of a loyalty scheme at a Hednesford store. Pet store Head 2 Tails has launched the initiative after seeing the number of grooming clients dip. Fiona Perks, who has run the Market Street store for seven years, said, for an unlimited period, customers bringing their dogs in for grooming could get a 10 per cent discount on their next appointment and be entered into a raffle for a £20 gift voucher. Witness plea as elderly lady pushed to ground

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after an elderly woman was pushed to the ground in Cannock. The offender snatched the victim's red shopping trolley before driving off in a small black car with a pink flower in the back window.

The incident happened in Lloyd Street at around 1.50pm on Thursday, October 17. The car was parked in Hatherton Road and the offender drove towards Dartmouth Avenue.

He is white, 5 ft 11 ins, of medium build and around 50 years of age. He was bald on top and had thinning brown hair around the back and sides. He wore a faded navy blue jumper and blue jeans. The victim was shaken but unhurt.

Witnesses can call 101 quoting reference 347.

School drops proposal for sports pitch sound buffer

AN 8ft-high fence around a community football pitch to shield neighbours from noise will now not be built under new plans – to the fury of nearby residents.

The barrier formed part of the original application for a synthetic games pitch at Cardinal Griffin Catholic High School in Cannock.

Head Michael Burrowes

But the school now wants to drop part of the plan – to build the sound buffer – saying the ground has been running for two years without any complaints.

Thirteen objections have been received. Opponents include the Friends of Cannock Park.

The £800,000 pitch, known as the Liam Keeling Arena, was opened in September 2011 and usage has continued to rise.

Request

The facility, a joint project between the school and Cannock Chase Council with £319,000 Football Foundation funding, is also available to the public.

The request to remove the fencing has been made on the basis that no substantiated complaints about noise have been received in the past 12 months.

Headteacher Michael Burrowes, who has made the application to waive the requirement for a barrier, said the school had planted a beech hedge that acted as a noise buffer, that a fence would be 'unacceptable' in design terms and that it could lead to vandalism.

A report to the planning committee concedes that use of the pitch has increased and intensified but does not consider the noise level has a significant impact on residents or park and golf course users.

Improving policing in countryside

A NEW rural volunteers scheme has been launched to improve policing in the countryside.

The Police Rural Support Volunteers scheme – run by Staffordshire Police – will see volunteers trained up to keep an eye on the south Staffordshire area, providing a link between rural communities and the police.

Members involved in the programme are provided with a priority contact police number to report suspicious activity and are kept informed about things happening in their area.

Their roles will also include visiting repeat or vulnerable victims of crime.

Chief Inspector Donna Gibbs, force lead on rural volunteers, said: "This scheme has come about as part of our ongoing work to enhance policing within our rural communities and I am glad we can involve our communities in this ongoing work."

Christmas fair

A CHRISTMAS fair in aid of local charities takes place at St Augustine's Church, in Station Road, Rugeley, next month. It will be on Saturday, November 23 from 10am-1pm with attractions including a grotto, refreshments, cards and crafts.

Bra bank to support breast cancer cause

WOMEN are being asked to donate their old bras for a new charity campaign. Women's gym Energie Fitness in Hollies Park Road, Cannock, has organised a 'bra bank' in support of those suffering from breast cancer.

Unused bras can be donated on Tuesdays and Fridays until October 29. The club will also be taking donations and offering a five-day trial at its gym.

Joint owner Carl Ziemann said: "It made sense to help raise awareness and money through bra donations so that ladies who suffer from breast cancer can be given continued hope in both the form of care and research."

Staff at Bon Marche in the Forum Shopping Centre are also taking donations of bras until the end of the month.

St John honour for Carol after her 45 years of First Aid service

A ST John Ambulance volunteer who has dedicated 45 years to First Aid and training people to save lives has been honoured for her work with the charity.

Carol Trigg, from Burntwood, has been invested into the order of St John as a Serving Sister. The ceremony took place on October 17 in the Order's historic 12th century Priory Church in London's Clerkenwell.

The 56-year-old, who joined the charity as a cadet aged 11, was recognised for outstanding service to its key foundations – one of which is St John Ambulance. The Order of St John is a Royal Order of Chivalry and Her Majesty the Queen, its Sovereign Head, approves each recipient.

Carol, who is also a magistrate and runs her own business as a consultant trichologist, continues to train people in life-saving First Aid as the area training specialist for south and central Staffordshire despite suffering a serious loss of vision – caused by glaucoma – that means she only has 20 per cent sight in one eye and needs to use a guide dog, Flora.

Carol Trigg and her guide dog Flora at the investiture

Hours

Earlier this month Carol was collecting in Lichfield city centre for the Guide Dogs, when she used her First Aid skills to help a woman who had fallen over and injured her shoulder.

In the 45 years Carol has volunteered with St John Ambulance, she has provided hundreds of hours of First Aid cover at events in the Burntwood, Cannock and Wolverhampton areas.

She has put her first aid to good use on numerous occasions, most memorably at a women's rugby competition that led to 26 players suffering minor to serious injuries.

In 2000, Carol took over the running of Burntwood's Badger and Cadet groups, for young people aged five to 17. She relaunched the area's adult unit and combined with the youth units, built it up to nearly 100 volunteers. She served as Divisional Superintendent from 2004 to 2012 and has also recruited her family to the cause – daughter Katie, now 17, joined St John Ambulance as a Badger aged five and husband Terry is part of the Staffordshire St John Ambulance Fellowship.

Carol was presented with the Order's insignia by Prior Rodney Green. He said: "Carol has been invited to join the Order of St John in recognition of the contribution she has made to her community.

"She has shown true commitment to helping St John Ambulance's life saving work."

Carol said: "I love being busy and thoroughly enjoy my work with St John Ambulance."

Concern over missing man

POLICE looking to trace a missing man believe he could be in Abbots Bromley. Christopher Killarney, aged 23, of Erdington, was last seen by his girlfriend at around 8pm on Monday. He suffers from depression and drives a white Rover 25, registration W113 LUY. He is white, 6ft 2ins tall, of medium build, with short straight light brown hair and blue eyes. He is clean shaven and could be wearing a dark blue tracksuit. Police are treating his disappearance as a priority. Anyone that can help should call 101.

Modfather Weller has the crowd in a Jam

Paul Weller, Civic Hall, Wolverhampton

WITH the shouts of 'Weller, Weller, Weller' his could easily have been a hair product convention.

Which would also explain why so many similarly-coiffeured gentlemen were in the same room together.

They were there to see the Modfather Paul Weller, of course. At 55 he's more of a Grandmodfather these days. But he's lost none of his edge and from the opening triple salvo of Sunflower, From the Floorboards Up and Wake Up the Nation, he had the sell-out Civic Hall crowd bobbing.

On the 36th anniversary since The Jam played New York, fans were kept waiting for an hour for a track from those heady days. Immediately after Peacock Suit had had everyone strutting, Start! had them all singing along.

The massed ranks had to wait until the very end for a Jam reprise as A Town Called Malice ended proceedings.

The second encore had begun with Weller and band resplendent in colourful capes for The Changing Man. An earlier brief interlude had resumed with Out of the Sinking.

The lengthy back catalogue also included Style Council material, while Weller – ably supported by a backing band that included Ocean Colour Scene's Steve Cradock – swapped his trademark guitar for piano for Dragonfly and Picking Up Sticks.

Intrusive thump takes some beating

Seth Lakeman with special guest Lisbee Stainton, Robin2, Bilston

WITHOUT taking anything away from brothers Sean or Sam, but of all the Lakeman clan Seth was undoubtedly at the front of the queue when it came to handing out musical talent.

Here, however, Lakeman became more of a pseudo-rocker than a folk star. He opened on his bouzouki with a track from his Tales From the Barrel-house album, Blacksmith's Prayer.

However, right from the off there was the ridiculously intrusive and annoyingly loud "traditional folk instrument" the drum kit.

It was the most unnecessary piece of equipment and marred many of the songs with its thumping noise. Take No Rogues was also overpowered by this intrusive thump.

For The Sender Lakeman was joined by Lisbee Stainton, who is due to start a tour on the back of her latest album, Mind Games – out on November 4. Her lyrical voice picked up the harmonies of Lakeman's singing although overall her efforts seemed lost amid the banging noise.

The folk Lakeman came to the fore with Solomon Browne, a tribute to lifeboat crews, which saw him take up his fiddle for the first time and led nicely into Portrait of my Wife from his forthcoming album, Word of Mouth.

The concert moved more towards the folk again with White Hare where Lakeman took up his guitar and was accompanied harmoniously by Stainton on the five string banjo.

Showing the gentler side for Apple Of His Eye, Lakeman, using the fiddle like a ukulele and playing pizzicato, fused softly with Stainton on her harmonium and with her lilting and sweet voice coming over the top.

Before the obligatory encore Lakeman's trademark fiddle solo was once again marred by the unnecessary and ridiculously intrusive banging drum.

Stevie's more than just a pretty face

Stevie Jones, of Cannock, right, with Miss British Empire Victoria Veal, host of New Level Pageants

A CANNOCK student proved her face does fit in the modelling world as she landed first prize in a beauty pageant.

Stevie Jones, aged 17, was crowned Miss Classic Face 2013 at The Hilton Hotel, Newport South Wales, at the beginning of this month.

Stevie, a student at South Staffordshire College's Cannock campus, models in her spare time as well as taking part in beauty contests, which she uses to promote different charities. Using her current title, she will trek up mount Snowdon next spring to raise money through sponsorship for a cancer research charity.

Her proud mother Shell Williams said: "She is only 17 years old and her determination to raise awareness for various charities is admirable. She is one of nine children and is a fantastic role model to her siblings as well as any member of the public."

Septic shock after biopsy led to death

A MAN died after an 'exceptional' chain of events following a routine biopsy in hospital, an inquest heard.

Paul Holloway developed an E.coli infection following the procedure at Stafford Hospital and went into septic shock.

Four other prostate biopsy patients also contracted E.coli but were successfully treated with antibiotics. The hospital was cleared of any blame when it was found the cases were not an outbreak caused by conditions on the ward.

Mr Holloway, of Redwood Close, Rugeley, had gone to Aelfgar Surgery in Church Street, Rugeley, in September 2011, worried that he might have prostate cancer.

by Marion Brennan

Protein

He was sent for tests and was monitored, but after a year it was found that the level of prostate-specific protein in his blood had risen significantly and he was fast-tracked for an appointment at Stafford Hospital.

A biopsy was carried out which turned out to be negative – but when doctors phoned with the good news, they were told he was in the University Hospital of North Staffordshire (UHNS), Stoke-on-Trent, after being taken ill. The 69-year-old had returned to his GP practice with a temperature the day after his discharge and been given antibiotics for the treatment of prostate infections.

But he deteriorated that evening and was taken to UHNS because of the overnight closure of the A&E department at Stafford.

A laparoscopy was carried out and more antibiotics were prescribed. Mr Holloway got steadily worse and died on October 16.

A post mortem showed that death was due to respiratory distress syndrome, caused by E.coli sepsis following the prostate biopsy.

Dr Daniel Gey van Pittius, of UHNS, who carried out the examination, said it was 'most likely' that the E.coli was caused by the biopsy.

The inquest heard that the bug occurs naturally in the gut and that everybody carries it. However an infection developed in Mr Holloway's case when the biopsy pierced his bowel lining and led to the bacteria entering his blood stream.

The antibiotics he was prescribed failed to cure him because it was found he was sensitive to them.

South Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh questioned whether the laparoscopy had compromised Mr Holloway's recovery. He was told it would have affected his immune system but doctors were unable to say to what extent.

Dr Ronald James, a consultant at UHNS, told the hearing at Cannock that he was 'surprised and saddened' to hear of Mr Holloway's relapse.

He added: "In my 21 years in this field I have never had a prostate biopsy death."

In a narrative verdict, the coroner concluded that death was due to the complications of medical treatment.

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Volunteer efforts earn youngsters top award

SIX Rugeley pupils have been highly honoured for their work in maintaining an adventure centre.

The pupils made regular weekend trips to Beaudesert Park, carrying out building maintenance, removing bushes and trees and clearing out the drains.

Their work has earned them the Queens Award for Voluntary Service – the highest that can be given to volunteer groups– for their 'outstanding work' in the community.

The Year 11 students recognised were Mathew Barrasford, Ruth Johnstone and Dylan Priest from Fair Oak Academy and George Archer, Ross Dunham and Jan Syk of Hagley Park.

The awards were presented by the Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire, Ian Dudson. Each student received a certificate, a woven badge and a lapel pin.David Powell, principal of the Rugeley Academies, said the youngsters had dedicated many hours to the task and had felt very honoured to receive such public recognition.

The pupils stayed on site all weekend over six weeks, working hard all day Saturday and Sunday on vital maintenance.

Memorial Arboretum to be lined with crocuses

A CARPET of crocuses will greet visitors to a national monument to the country's war dead next spring. The National Memorial Arboretum at Alrewas is inviting people to take part in the planting of the bulbs.

They are being planted along the length of Yeomanry Avenue where the Fire and Rescue Services Memorial among others is situated. The first bulbs were sown at the end of September. Sarah Montgomery, managing director said crocuses were chosen as a symbol of hope and renewal.

Supporters of the Arboretum are being asked to make a donation towards the cost of the bulbs and join a second planting weekend on November 2 and 3, when the remainder of the 5,000 bulbs will be put into the ground.

Owner fined again after mess is not cleaned up

A DOG owner who failed to clean up after her pet while walking it in Stafford has been hit with a fine – for the second time in only a few months.

The 35-year-old, who has not been named but lives in Rugeley, was handed the £75 fixed penalty notice after her golden labrador was spotted by an enforcement officer defecating in a car park in the Western Downs area of the town.

The dog was unsupervised at the time and the woman did not clean up the mess. The borough council has received a number of complaints about dog mess in that location. The woman was previously fined £75 in June for the same offence.

The council launched a new clampdown on dog mess earlier this year and Councillor Frank Finlay, cabinet member for environment and health, said it had received a 'fantastic' response from the local community, with responsible dog owners playing a leading role in reporting people flouting the rules.

Schools

Enforcement officers have carried out a series of early morning and evening patrols to target offenders.

Large banners have been installed at hotspots across the borough and the authority has joined forces with a pet charity to go in to schools to help spread the word about the risks dog fouling poses to health.

Councillor Finlay said: "If you let your dog foul on any land the public have access to, and not clean up after it, then you will be caught and fined. Not only is dog fouling unpleasant but it can result in serious illness."

To pass on information about owners not cleaning up after their pets, e-mail dogs@staffordbc.gov.uk or call 01785 619402.

Public can drop in for news on rail project

A PUBLIC drop-in session over the electrification of the Chase railway line is being held next month.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley has organised the event with Network Rail, which is behind the £30m project. It takes place on Saturday, November 23 from 10am to 2pm at Tesco in Victoria Street and follows similar sessions held earlier this month in Cannock, Rugeley and Walsall.

Mr Burley worked to secure the additional date after hearing about concerns from Hednesford Town Council and others that locals were not being kept fully informed about the project.

The 'drop in' session will allow the public and businesses a chance to meet Network Rail staff and find out more about the project and the benefits it will bring to residents and businesses.

Electrification will be delivered by December 2017 and the MP said: "Electrifying the Chase line will transform journeys for my constituents who catch the train to work or visit Birmingham for leisure, and marks the biggest improvement to passenger services since the line was reopened in 1989.

"I welcome Network Rail's agreement to hold this additional 'drop-in' session and would encourage all my constituents to attend."

Give blood session

DONORS are being urged to roll up their sleeves and give blood in Cannock next Monday, October 28. Sessions take place at the civic centre, Beecroft Road, from 1.30-3.30pm and from 4.30-7.30pm. Call 0300 123 23 23 to make an appointment.

Tickets are selling fast for clairvoyant evening

REGULAR spiritual readings take place at a Heath Hayes church this weekend. The one-to-one tarot and angel card readings are held on the last Saturday of each month at Heath Hayes Spiritualist Church. Visitors can pay £12 for a half-an-hour reading on October 26 at The Cabin, in Hednesford Road, from 10am to noon and between 1 and 4pm.

Call Joyce on 01543 579755 or 07773 398492.

Meanwhile, tickets are selling fast for an evening of clairvoyance at Green Heath Workings Men's Club, Greenheath Road, Hednesford, next Wednesday, October 30.

It starts at 7.30pm and tickets are £10, available from Joyce on either of the above numbers.

Parishioners invited to go back to church

PARISHIONERS are being welcomed 'Back to Church' at a special service in Rugeley next month.

The Feast of Christ the King takes place at the Church of the Holy Spirit, in Etching Hill, on November 24.

Leaders describe it as a chance to 'invite people to come with us to church - it will be our very own Back to Church Sunday.'

The aim is to invite someone back to church, make the service as warm and welcoming as possible, offer light refreshments following the service and remember to pray for the service and those invited.

Tributes to Charlatans drummer in charity gig

FANS, friends and bandmates gathered to pay tribute to Charlatans drummer Jon Brookes at a one-off charity concert held at the Royal Albert Hall.

The concert was organised by the band for the Brain Tumour Charity in honour of the popular musician, from Burntwood, who died in August after battling a brain tumour.

Last Friday night's show saw Liam Gallagher perform with members of Beady Eye and Paul 'Bonehead' Arthurs, an original member of Oasis.

It was the first time the pair had performed together on stage in 13 years after Mr Arthurs quit Oasis in 2000. They performed Live Forever and Columbia.

Liam Gallagher returned later in the evening to perform George Harrison's 1970 single My Sweet Lord.

Vaccines

Manic Street Preachers frontman James Dean Bradfield performed a solo set, including an acoustic Motorcycle Emptiness, with members of Mumford and Sons and The Vaccines also taking to the stage.

The Chemical Brothers performed DJ sets between band performances.

The Charlatans headlined the show dedicating their song My Beautiful Friend to Mr Brookes. Mr Brookes was a founding member of the iconic band, which formed in Walsall in 1989.

Fan Andy Mooney tweeted it had been 'a wonderful and touching night'.

In a statement released before the show, Mr Brookes' bandmates said the show would benefit the Brain Tumour Charity which he had been involved with during his illness.

Cruise firm recruits new apprentices in HQ move

A HOLIDAY firm specialising in cruise shore excursions and port transfers has moved into bigger headquarters, taking on five new apprentices.

Cruisingexcursions.com has opened a new base at the Orbital Plaza in Bridgtown, Cannock.

The company, which employs 36 local people, has moved from smaller premises at the plaza and was previously based near Birmingham Airport.

It launched two years ago.

Managing director Simon Purchase said: "We are expanding rapidly and this is our third move in that short period.

Excursions

"Cruise holidays are a huge growth area and have become more affordable. Until the launch of our company, the usual way to organise excursions was to buy them on board the ship."

He added: "Now, with us, the trips can be bought in advance online and are considerably cheaper than those offered by the cruise line."

The company has grown from offering 240 European excursions to a choice of almost 10,000 in more than 700 ports worldwide.

Mr Purchase said he hoped to offer permanent positions when the apprenticeship period was over.

Sequence dance

A SEQUENCE Dance is being held in aid of the Alzheimer's Society. Entrance s £2.50 for the event at Lea Hall Social Club, Sandy Lane, Rugeley, from 7.30pm on Sunday, November 10.

Patients advised to stay steady on feet

A NEW campaign by local doctors is urging people to stay well and on their feet this autumn. The anti-falls campaign is being rolled out in GP practices across Cannock Chase.

It aims to provide advice and support to vulnerable patients. The initiative is being supported by Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group and is backed up by a poster campaign and the distribution of flyers.

Chairman of Cannock Chase CCG Dr Johnny McMahon said: "We wanted to highlight the risk of falling but also to raise awareness about the simple steps that people can take to try and stop that happening in the first place." and we are using the flu clinics as a means to reach patients that could be at most at risk."

Arrogant king is turned sympathetic by Tennant

David Tennant as Richard II at Stratford-upon-Avon

Richard II, Royal Shakespeare Theatre, Stratford-upon-Avon

DAVID Tennant is the star attraction as a self-regarding monarch but there are many other fine performances, particularly by a silver-haired cohort of RSC veterans, in this traditional and accessible version of one of Shakespeare's lesser seen history plays.

The company's new artistic director Gregory Doran looks at a world where dignity and dynasty are destroyed by greed and ambition.

King Richard sets in motion his own decline by ordering the murder of the Duke of Gloucester. He never admits responsibility but a 'keep your mouth shut' glance at the Duke of Norfolk speaks volumes. Then he banishes the outspoken Bolingbroke and steals his inheritance.

Tennant effects a effete fluting English accent and with girlishly long locks portrays an arrogant and androgynous king. At one point he kisses the Duke of Aumerle, Oliver Rix, with passion.

There cannot be a greater contrast than with his eventual usurper, Nigel Lindsay's gruff and manly Bolingbroke, the later King Henry IV, clanking around in armour and built like a prop forward.

Aura

In act one it seems unlikely that we could care less for the capricious King Richard but it is to the credit of the Broadchurch and Doctor Who actor that by the time he becomes Bolingbroke's prisoner, the hair, the simple white gown and the cross around his neck creates a Christ-like aura about the doomed king. The scene where he has to hand over his crown but asks his enemy to take it from his grasp is electrifying.

Excellent support comes from RSC old hands. These include Michael Pennington as the dying John of Gaunt, passionately delivering the famous 'England' speech; Oliver Ford Davis as an increasingly bewildered Duke of York who remains loyal to the crown, whoever wears it; and Jane Lapotaire as the grief-stricken Duchess of Gloucester.

A set consisting of minimalist metal gantry and giant trap door puts the emphasis on the actors and the production is enhanced by beautiful choral music and regal blasts of brass.

The play has near sold out at Stratford and transfers to London's Barbican in December, but it will also be seen live on cinema screens nationwide on November 13.

New show from here to obscurity

From Here To Eternity, Shaftesbury Theatre, London

THOSE looking for a musical to see on a trip to London's West End have a new option in this 1940s wartime epic that's just opened at the Shaftesbury. But don't take the kids or granny unless they don't mind hearing a barrage of F-words.

This is lyricistTim Rice's-first new work in over a decade. But be warned – The Lion King it isn't.

It is a grim and hard-hitting story of illicit lust and tarnished love, resentment and violence on an army base near Pearl Harbor before the Imperial Japanese Navy strike.

It is set in barracks, parade grounds and in boxing rings, brothels and a gay bar (the latter populated by stereotypes). Ill-fated soldiers get stabbed, beaten to a pulp, bottoms are bared and the stage is urinated upon, there is racist and homophobic language.

The drab set makes little use of the paradise island setting. But in this maelstrom of a musical, based on the 1950s novel that yielded the Oscar-winning movie with Burt Lancaster and Frank Sinatra, are some good songs by Stuart Brayson and superb performances.

Tall, dark and handsome Darius Campbell (a Popstar when surnamed Danesh) has a faultless US accent and a superb crooning voice as the sergeant who has an affair with the commander's wife, an assured performance by Rebecca Thornhill.

Robert Lonsdale makes misfit Private Prewitt an interesting character, strumming his pre-Elvis rock 'n' roll ballad to his prostitute girlfriend (Siubhan Harrison).

The star turn is Ryan Sampson, from TV's Plebs, as profane but plucky Italian-American Private Maggio, who connects with the audience as soon as he appears strumming a ukulele.

Grim musicals can be hits, look at Les Mis, but I suspect this show will go from here to obscurity. This musical is a curiosity for dedicated show fans and Darius admirers.

70s idol turns dishwasher as part of Rep's new season

Rocky Horror is feeling fab at 40

IT'S been doing the Time Warp for 40 years now and The Rocky Horror Show has every intention of growing old disgracefully.

The rude and rollicking musical, a homage to sci-fi B-movies and rock 'n' roll, brings a new Brad and Janet to become the sort-of-unwilling victims of the sex-crazed Frank 'N' Furter at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Monday to Saturday.

Superstar

Former Tracy Beaker and Strictly dance finalist Dani Harmer plays Janet in her first visit to Wolverhampton since her panto role six years ago.

Playing her fiance Brad is Ben Forster, who won ITV's Superstar to play Jesus in the Jesus Christ Superstar arenas tour.

West End star of Priscilla Queen of the Desert, Oliver Thornton, is back in the high heels to play Frank 'N' Furter.

But the real stars of The Rocky Horror Show are always those audience members who dress outrageously and join in by shouting out responses to the action on stage.

Oliver Thornton as alien transvestite Frank 'N' Furter in the Rocky Horror Show

NEW plays premiering in Birmingham before their London opening, a celebration of influential Marxist playwright Bertolt Brecht and a return to drama for 1970s pop star David Essex feature in the Rep's season for 2014.

Artistic director of the revamped Centenary Square theatre, Roxana Silbert said: "The Rep has had an amazing 2013. We've celebrated our centenary as well as our re-opening alongside the Library of Birmingham.

"But there's no time for us to sit on our laurels, so I'm announcing our exciting new programme for the first half of 2014."

Pop star David Essex, who made a new career in musical theatre, returns to his roots as an actor in the European premiere of Canadian playwright Morris Panych's The Dishwashers on January 31 for a fortnight run.

An emphasis will be on female playwrights and this includes two premieres.

Gurpreet Kaur Bhatti's humorous look at family life Khandan (Family), directed by Silbert, will be staged from May 22 before going to London's Royal Court Theatre.

Her last play at the Rep, a decade ago, caused controversy in the Sikh community. Behzti (Dishonour), was cancelled after protests outside the theatre and threats to the writer.

Birmingham playwright Rachel De-lahay's hard-hitting Circles, set on Birmingham's no11 bus, is at the Rep's Door venue in May.

Brecht's The Threepenny Opera comes to the main stage in March in a new version by Jenny Sealey, one of the directors of the London 2012 Paralympics Opening Ceremony. While Silbert revives her RSC production of Brecht's A Life of Galileo starring Ian McDiarmid (February 28 – March 4).

Marking 100 years since the start of the First World War, the Rep presents a stage adaptation of Sebastian Faulk's novel Birdsong in March.

REVIEW

Chris Wood, Newhampton Arts Centre, Wolverhampton

THERE is something eminently likeable about Chris Wood. Although one of the mature musicians on the folk circuit, he manages to retain an endearing boyish and playful charm.

This is how the award-winning musician got away with managing to disappear, leaving his audience in limbo, while he went in search of his cap in the dressing room. He had already set the tone of not taking himself seriously with a dull anecdote about guitar picks which managed to raise a laugh.

He opened properly with a bluesy number, a song he had learned from Martin Carthy, Oh My Hat is Frozen to My Head. He moved on to The Cottagers Reply which, like most of Wood's songs, has a gentle rolling sound enhancing the clever and poignant lyrics he is famous for.

The Sweetness Game brought in a country feel before the title track of his latest album None the Wiser, a snapshot of recession Britain. Wood's smooth voice and gently bouncing acoustic rhythms draw you in .He pulls out his version of Jerusalem. While the words are the same as the great British hymn he has rewritten the music and it never seems to sit easy as a combination.

There were more modern-day musings with More Fool Me about modern technology making it harder for musicians to make money.

Danny Farragher

REVIEW

Fiddler on the Roof, Wolverhampton Grand

CRAIG Revel Horwood's revival of a 1960s Broadway favourite has plenty of heart to go with the memorable melodies – and a star turn by Paul Michael Glaser as a Jewish milkman in Tsarist Russia with daughters to marry off.

The Strictly Come Dancing judge is a most entertaining director and invests this tale of a Jewish community about to become evicted from their village with the right amounts of sentiment, poignancy and humour. Being a choreographer too, there are some impressive dance routines and the inevitable Revel Horwood flamboyance comes out in a delirious ghost scene with floating operatic phantom.

Tradition

Paul Michael Glaser owns the stage as Tevye, the kind-hearted father who is torn between tradition and love for his strong-willed daughters, whose unsuitable suitors include a poor tailor, a revolutionary firebrand and a Russian gentile. The role sees the American actor come full circle. He played the young rebel in the movie version of Fiddler, 42 years on he is the bearded old man. He invests the role with integrity and his take on If I Were A Rich Man was a highlight.

Having actor-musicians who play instruments on stage gives this production a vibrant sound. It returns to the Midlands to run at Birmingham Hippodrome from March 11 to 15.

Trevor Eve (right)

Waking the Dead
Drama, 9pm

This modern classic stars Trevor Eve as Detective Superintendent Peter Boyd, a troubled and volatile – but brilliant – police officer who's an expert at closing cold cases. Boyd heads up a crack squad of police investigators who reopen unsolved murder cases, using new technology to re-examine evidence that hopefully will lead to the killer. In this week's episode workmen renovating the crypt of a Catholic church are alarmed when they discover the skeletal remains of a young man buried within the concrete. Sue Johnston, Holly Aird and Claire Goose also star.

Catherine Cookson's The Secret
Drama, 9pm
Based on a novel by Catherine Cookson, this period drama concerns Freddie Musgrave, who, as a young man, fell in with a band of criminals and made a career as a smuggler. With the help of Maggie Hewitt, a respectable businesswoman who fell in love with him, Freddie was able to leave his life of crime behind him and has become a trusted employee of Maggie's firm. However, a face from Freddie's past – and a cache of rare gems – could destroy the new life Freddie has spent nearly two decades building. Colin Buchanan and Hannah Yelland star.

MONDAY
Final Destination, Channel 5, 10.55pm
A teenager's grim premonition saves his schoolmates from dying in a plane crash, but despite their narrow escape, the vengeful spirit of death refuses to be outwitted and the survivors fall victim to a series of bizarre mishaps. Horror, starring Devon Sawa, Ali Larter, Kerr Smith, Kristen Cloke and Seann William Scott. (2000)

TUESDAY
Archipelago, BBC1, 12.05am
A man prepares to leave home to do voluntary work in Africa. His mother plans to see him off with a family get-together at their holiday home in the Isles of Scilly, but the gathering only exposes the deep-seated conflicts between them. Drama, starring Tom Hiddleston, Kate Fahy, Amy Lloyd and Lydia Leonard. (2010)

WEDNESDAY
The Ghost of Greville Lodge, Channel 5, 3.10pm
A teenage orphan is invited to stay at his great-uncle's sprawling country manor, where he becomes aware of ghostly happenings – and the mysteriously locked doors of the west wing. Then one night he wakes up to find himself in the middle of tragic past events. Family drama, starring George Cole, Prunella Scales, Jon Newman and Rebecca Weeks. (2000)

Final Destination, Monday, Channel 5, 10.55pm

THURSDAY
The Canterville Ghost, Channel 5, 3.15pm
A crotchety English ghost wages war on the American family occupying his ancestral home, but ends up forming an unexpected friendship with the daughter, who helps break the curse that prevents him resting in peace. Supernatural comedy based on Oscar Wilde's classic ghost story, starring Patrick Stewart, Neve Campbell, Ed Wiley and Cherie Lunghi. (1996)

FRIDAY
TT: Closer to the Edge, ITV, 10.35pm
Documentary following the annual Tourist Trophy motorcycle race held on the Isle of Man. The event has a reputation as one of the most dangerous motorcycling events in the world, with riders frequently being killed on the course. The film follows several competitors in the 2010 TT, including reigning champion John McGuinness. (2011)

Halloween: Resurrection, BBC1, 11.50pm
Unstoppable killer Michael Myers returns to his childhood home where teenagers are misguidedly spending the night intending to record their every move on webcam and broadcast it live on the internet. Horror sequel, starring Brad Loree, Busta Rhymes, Tyra Banks, Sean Patrick Thomas and Bianca Kajlich. (2002)

Pick of the Week

Order is in short supply on the streets of Whitechapel

Blood, gore, violence and shattered personal lives – they're all just in a day's work for the coppers working on Ripper Street.

Despite being set in 1890, this drama, which returns for its second series this week, bears all the hallmarks of 21st century television thanks to its near-the-knuckle depictions of crimes, brutal plots and fast-paced approach to storytelling.

And although those factors are enough to make any programme compelling, Ripper Street also has a superb cast, led by Matthew Macfadyen and Adam Rothenberg.

All three return here to play their heroic if somewhat flawed characters who are trying to keep Whitechapel's streets clean – which, it seems, is an impossible job.

Life has changed for the three main characters since we last saw them; Drake (Flynn) has a new wife who seems to be smoothing down his rough edges, Jackson (Rothenberg) is beginning to wonder if Whitechapel is really the place to put down roots, while Reid (Macfadyen) has undergone the biggest change of all.

"He's no longer with his wife, who has left home, and the audience discovers why during the first episode," explains the former Spooks star. "They had a very traumatic end to the first series and he'd given her false hope that he'd found their missing daughter. It turned out it wasn't her and so that was pretty hard for them both and their marriage dissolved.

"Anyway, he's on his own and his house is a mess. He sleeps at the office in Leman Street most nights and he's in quite a lonely and dark place but as always he throws himself into his work and that's his constant salvation."

In the first episode, a policeman has been thrown out of a window onto the iron railings below, and Reid is keen to find out whodunit as soon as possible – after all, if the police are proven to be fallible, criminals everywhere could run amok.

The dead officer was stationed in neighbouring K-Division, led by the amoral Jedediah Shine, and Reid's investigation sees him locking horns not only with his formidable colleague, but also with members of the emergent Chinatown community who appear to know more than they're letting on.

"It's always thrilling to learn about the new casting and people who are coming in," says Macfadyen. "We've got Joseph Mawle who comes in and plays Jedediah Shine and he's a terrific actor."

Mawle's previous credits include Birdsong, Game of Thrones and Red Riding, but he's rarely played somebody as villainous as Shine.

"Shine runs the Limehouse division and Reid runs the Whitechapel division," Macfadyen reveals. "I think as far as Reid knows he is a good policeman.

"Initially, they work together and then doubts start to grow about Shine and what kind of man he is..."

But really, at the heart of the drama is the bromance between the three central characters.

"It's a lovely dynamic because it is two and one – three is always two and one, it's a constantly shifting thing. Two are fighting and one is breaking up the fight. It's great and they are lovely actors so it just gets better and better."

Matthew Macfadyen stars in Ripper Street, Monday, BBC1, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
The Gadget Show
Channel 5, 8pm
Recently, we've got used to seeing Rachel Riley wearing sequins, fake tan and a slightly uncertain expression as she takes the floor on Strictly Come Dancing. But this week, she's indulging in a very different type of dress-up as she joins forces with Jason Bradury to build two high-tech Halloween costumes. (Yes, even more high-tech than cutting two eyeholes in an old bed sheet). But when they take to the streets of Birmingham in their new outfits, will the public be scared witless or just a bit bemused?

TUESDAY
The Escape Artist
BBC1, 9pm
David Tennant's latest foray into the fictional crime world sounds very intriguing indeed. In this three-part he plays Will Burton, a junior barrister on the rise. He's expected to become a QC, and thanks to his sharp wits and intellectual capacity, has never been defeated in court – everyone he has ever defended has been acquitted. But Will is about to learn the hard way that winning at all costs isn't necessarily the right thing to do after his latest client, Liam Foyle, turns out to be a serial killer who, thanks to Will's expertise, is about to be let out onto the streets to strike again...

On the Run
ITV, 9pm
Nigel Burnell is a sex offender from South Wales who breached a court order and went on the run to Portugal. Lukasz Sawicki failed to appear in court for a charge of sexual assault and is wanted in Poland for threats to kill after being convicted in his absence. This one-off documentary attempts to track down the pair of wanted criminals so they can be brought to justice. Presenters Natasha Kaplinsky and Mark Williams-Thomas reveal how their undercover team trace fugitives on the run from the law. However, with the Portuguese police proving reluctant to arrest Burnell, and Sawicki proving elusive, the respective manhunts prove tricky.

WEDNESDAY
Ambassadors
BBC2, 9pm
The opening episode of this sitcom focused on the new British ambassador to Tazbekistan's efforts to land a lucrative deal for the UK. In the second edition, somebody else tries to land a lucrative deal for the UK. There's a pattern emerging, but we hope it doesn't last long because if it does, the welcome afforded to the series is soon going to wear thin. Here, Tom Hollander guest stars as Prince Mark of Bath – the episode reunites him with writer James Wood, who not only co-wrote Ambassadors, but penned the actor's religious sitcom Rev. Prince Mark manages to upset everyone while trying to secure drilling licences for AngloBrit Oil – but an unexpected turn of events could turn him into an unlikely hero.

The Gadget Show, Monday, Channel 5, 8pm

Mercury Prize Live Winner Announcement
Channel 4, 10pm
For the last 21 years, the Mercury Prize has been rewarding the brightest, most talented but not always the richest or the most conformist of British and Irish music-makers with what is seen as one of our most prestigious music prizes. Over the years it's helped spotlight talent such as Primal Scream, Suede, Portishead, Roni Size, and last year's winner, Alt-J. In 2013, Arctic Monkeys; David Bowie; Disclosure; Foals; Jake Bugg; James Blake; Jon Hopkins; Laura Marling; Laura Mvula; Rudimental; Savages, and Yourself Villagers are all in the running to take the prize. We have no idea who will win, but we can tell you Lauren Laverne and Nick Grimshaw will be covering the results live from the Roundhouse in London.

THURSDAY
Bedlam
Channel 4, 9pm
We may like to think we've come a long way since the days when people with a mental illness were incarcerated in 'Bedlams', but the truth is there are still many myths and stigmas attached to psychiatric treatment. This new documentary series challenges the stereotypes by going behind the scenes at the world's oldest psychiatric institution. The first episode focuses on one of the most common mental illnesses in Britain today – anxiety. The Bethlem Royal Psychiatric Hospital in South London is a specialist unit that treats some of the most extreme cases, most of whom have been diagnosed with a form of OCD. For example, James, 23, suffers from a debilitating fear that he'll lose control of his bowels in public.

Person of Interest
Channel 5, 10pm
The last series of JJ Abrams and Jonathan Nolan's complex saga ended with Finch (Michael Emerson) being abducted by Root (Amy Acker), a contract killer and computer hacker obsessed with 'the machine.' However, she has no idea Finch has programmed it to use Reese (Jim Caviezel) as the contingency if anything happens to him. In this second episode, Carter (Taraji P Henson) goes through the files of Hanna (Emily Robinson), a 14-year old who walked out of a Texas library in 1991 and apparently vanished without a trace.

FRIDAY
Chris Tarrant Goes Fishing
Channel 5, 7pm
For a man who loves casting off as much as he loves asking folks if 'that's their final answer?', it seemed only a matter of time before Chris Tarrant was given a show of his own… and here it is. The Who Wants To Be A Millionaire host will be exploring some of the world's greatest fishing grounds in the company of professional fisherman and guide John Horsey. First stop for the duo is the Maldives.

Mitsubishi workhorse must live up to proud name

By David Banner

MITSUBISHI'S L200 is a famous name in UK pick-up circles but can the latest version of this workhorse cut it alongside its talented rivals?

The pick-up was mopping up over 45 per cent of total sales in its 2003 heyday. Today's curvier version must face far stiffer competition from rival products, hence its Japanese marque's continual attempts to improve it. The latest models move the game on again, Mitsubishi offering a high specification and a generous helping of flash for the cash.

The L200 does the lifestyle pick-up thing better than any other model.

Adventurous

It offers more adventurous styling and high spec versions called Warrior and Barbarian with lots of equipment. The underlying vehicle is more of a mixed bag. Build quality and road manners could be better but the L200 is manoeuvrable, tough and looks like good value for money.

It would be no exaggeration to say that Mitsubishi had much to do with the pick-up's meteoric rise to prominence on these shores. Sales in a sector dominated by the L200 grew by 347 per cent in the six years leading up to the end of 2004. That pace of growth subsequently tailed off but not before it caught the attention on other manufacturers, encouraging them to take the pick-up market more seriously. Mitsubishi's innovation was focusing on the pick-up truck as a leisure vehicle as well as a working one. The tax advantages accrued by people using one for family duties and as a company car proved attractive and Mitsubishi's chrome tinged L200 double cabs had the practicality and the attitude for this varied role.

The Mitsubishi L200 the lifestyle vehicle that changed the UK pick-up market

The L200's galvanised load area

Whichever L200 model you choose, and there are quite a few of them, there's a 2.5-litre common-rail injection diesel engine up front doing the hard work. In standard form, this engine turns in a healthy 134bhp and torque of 314Nm at 2,000rpm but a high power option is also available that tickles the output up to a macho 175bhp with 400Nm at 2,000rpm in manual form. This latter unit is capable of hitting 62mph from standstill in 12.1seconds before rumbling on to a 111mph top speed.

The less powerful L200s take 15 seconds to reach 62mph and will eventually attain 103mph. The five-speed manual gearbox comes as standard but a five-speed automatic is also offered that features a Sport mode with more aggressive shift mapping.

Pick-up ride quality always leaves something to be desired compared to 4x4 passenger cars but the L200 doesn't do too badly. It's not the best UK-market pick-up to drive but it is one of the most manoeuvrable.

Some pick-ups have entry-level front-wheel-drive versions but not the L200. Whether it's the Easy Select 4WD system on the entry-level models or the Super Select 4WD set-up on the range-topping versions, all have all-wheel-drive. Easy Select models should be run in 2WD mode in normal conditions with a locked 4WD mode selectable on low friction surfaces.

The Super Select is an advanced full time 4x4 set-up similar to that found in Mitsubishi's Shogun.There are three basic bodystyles to mull over. The single cab is reserved very much for businesses that need a proper old school working pick-up. Its traditional two seats and extensive 2,220mm load length mean it prioritises cargo over cabin .

The second option is the Club cab. This is for single cab customers who might occasionally need to transport more than one passenger. It offers a 1,805mm load length with additional capacity behind the cabin's front seats for secure storage or to seat a couple of small ones.

Most L200 customers opt for a double cab body, a variant offered in any trim level you like. This is a four-door five-seater model.

The L200 trim level range reflects its goal of catering for business and private buyers. You have 4Work models at the base of the range equipped only with the basics. That means CD stereo, steel wheels, and the basic Easy Select 4x4 system. 4Life is a little plusher with air-conditioning, electric windows and keyless entry. Beyond that, we reach the high series L200s, double cab versions dubbed Warrior and Barbarian. These are the bigger sellers and the models that cross over between business and pleasure usage.

All of the high series L200 models feature the M-ASTC traction and stability control system as standard which is a really useful addition. The Warrior also features 17" alloy wheels, body-coloured wheel-arches, cruise control and climate control. The Barbarian is actually rather civilised, adding a colour screen satellite navigation system, a reversing camera, full leather trim and numerous styling accessories.

The new Vauxhall Insignia crossover – starts at £25,349

New Insignia crossover in impressive show debut

VAUXHALL'S rugged SUV-inspired all-purpose Insignia Country Tourer is available to order now with prices starting from £25,349 on the road, up to £5,000 cheaper than its D-segment crossover rivals.

Known as the Insignia Country Tourer, and based on the Sports Tourer model, but with all-wheel drive, higher ground clearance and tougher styling, the new addition to Vauxhall's highly-acclaimed Insignia range received a rapturous reception when it was unveiled.

Customers can choose between two trim levels, Country Tourer, priced from £25,349 to £29,709 on the road, and Country Tourer Nav, priced from £26,499 to £30,859 on the road.

Country Tourer trim features generous standard spec including bi-xenon adaptive front lighting, power tailgate and front and rear parking sensors. On top of this, Country Tourer Nav gets Navi 900 IntelliLink sat nav with 8in colour touch screen, multi-function touch-pad controller and an 8in digital instrument cluster as standard.

Each model has a choice of two powerful 2.0 CDTi engines, including a 163PS with start/stop and a hot 195PS BiTurbo unit. The 163PS engine is available with either a six-speed manual or six-speed automatic transmission, and the BiTurbo comes with the automatic gearbox only.

Crucially, entry-level Insignia Country Tourer Nav pricing undercuts that of key D-segment crossover rivals including the Audi A4 Allroad by over £5,000 and the Volkswagen Passat Alltrack by £2,400.

First deliveries of the Insignia Country Tourer are due in dealers in January.

Prices and spec revealed for the Rapid Spaceback

The new Skoda Rapid Spaceback will be available in three trim levels – S, SE and Elegance

SKODA has announced prices and specifications for the new Rapid Spaceback ahead of its arrival in January 2014.

The highly anticipated addition to the Skoda line-up will be available in three generously-appointed trim levels: S, SE and Elegance, with prices starting from £14,340 on the road.

With its striking exterior design, practical interior and advanced engine range, the new Rapid Spaceback introduces a dynamic new dimension to the Skoda range. The Rapid Spaceback has a 415-litre boot and also comes with an array of personalisation options that allow buyers to tailor the car to their own tastes. Among the styling options are a large panoramic glass roof and extended tailgate glass to give the Rapid Spaceback a unique appearance.

The engine range comprises of three petrol and two diesel units. Power outputs range from 86PS to 122PS, with customers able to choose between manual and advanced DSG automatic transmissions. The line-up will also include a GreenLine version with CO2 emissions of just 99g/km. More details for Rapid Spaceback GreenLine will be confirmed soon. Specification levels across the range are generous, with all three Spaceback models fitted with additional equipment over the Rapid. Air conditioning is standard across the line-up, along with curtain airbags, front electric windows and a height and reach adjustable steering column. SE models feature alloy wheels, acoustic rear parking sensors, cruise control and a Bluetooth telephone connection, while Elegance models add, among other items, climate control, height-adjustable passenger seat and cornering front fog lights.

The Seat Leon ST estate car has been awarded a five-star safety rating by Euro NCAP

Five-star safety rating for Seat Leon estate

THE Seat Leon ST has been awarded a five-star safety rating by car safety assessment body Euro NCAP. The outstanding score puts the Leon ST among the very safest cars on the road.

The spacious, versatile and beautiful estate car, which goes on sale in the UK in October for January 2014 first deliveries, joins the Leon five-door hatchback as a five-star car.

The rating is the result of exceptional scores in all areas of the industry-standard Euro NCAP test, but particularly the adult occupant safety and child occupant safety sections, for which the Leon ST scored 94 per cent and 92 per cent respectively. Features such as front passenger airbag deactivation, to facilitate installation of a rear-facing child seat, helped achieve the child occupant score, while extensive use of high strength and ultra-high strength steels in key areas of the chassis ensure that the Leon ST remains as stable as possible during a collision.

Alongside the five-star safety rating, the Leon ST has received two Euro NCAP Advanced awards, for its lane-keeping assistant and multi-collision brake systems; Euro NCAP Advanced was established in 2010 by Euro NCAP to reward ground-breaking emerging safety innovations.

"Seat is committed to the highest levels of active and passive safety in all its models," says Dr Matthias Rabe, executive vice-president for research and development at Seat SA.

"The thorough development work at our technical centre is now rewarded with the excellent classification achieved by both variants of the new Leon in the demanding Euro NCAP tests.

"We are also pleased with the two Euro NCAP Advanced rewards, for the Seat multi-collision brake system and the Seat lane-keeping assistant in the new Leon. It is the new Leon family at the very top of the latest technology," he adds.

Dr Rabe accepted the two Euro NCAP Advanced certificates at the Frankfurt Motor Show, where the Leon ST made its world debut.

New look for Subaru Outback crossover

A new look inside and out, for the 2014 model Subaru Outback

A world first, the new powertrain pairing delivers major improvements

LAUNCHED in Europe in 1996, the original Subaru Outback pioneered the 'crossover' concept, combining the comfort, interior space and superior on-road handling of a family estate with the off-road capability and ground clearance of a sports utility vehicle.

Upgraded for the 2014 model year, Subaru engineers have now realised further improvements to the Outback, enhancing the car's handling characteristics with revised suspension components and the latest incarnation of Subaru's Vehicle Dynamics Control.

The model also features a revised design for both the interior and exterior.

However, the most significant change for the Outback is the introduction of a new powertrain pairing. A world first, Subaru engineers have combined the popular 2.0-litre Boxer diesel engine with a Lineartronic CVT (continuously variable transmission) – bringing improvements in driveability, fuel economy and emissions while also widening the car's appeal immensely.

With the new engine and gearbox combination the 2014 MY Subaru Outback will return 44.8mpg and 166g/km CO2 on the combined cycle.

The Outback line-up has received a visual upgrade, refreshing the vehicle's looks. Emphasising the Outback's sense of toughness and its ability to tackle all roads and conditions, the latest model features body-coloured cladding in place of the previous iteration's black plastic.

Colours

Buyers now have a wider range of colours to choose from – including two new colours: Deep Sea Blue Pearl and Dark Grey Metallic – while larger fog lamps and the addition of a gloss black finish to the front headlamps give the car greater road presence than before. The alloy wheels now have a gunmetal finish as standard.

The upgraded cabin of the latest Outback features clearer and more modern instrumentation – including the addition of a liquid crystal instrument cluster display and new materials for a number of dashboard elements.

Black metallic panels bring about a more modern and premium appearance and feel, while instruments within the cockpit have been moved to improve user-friendliness.

Subaru engineers have worked hard to further improve the Outback's ride and handling, notably through alterations to the car's front and rear suspension. The result is a more stable ride and increased comfort for occupants.

The engine and front and rear suspension systems – the latter with a self-levelling feature as standard – are mounted on their own sub-frames, bringing about reduced vibration and noise.

The fourth-generation Outback's double-wishbone rear suspension is compact enough to give buyers a 526-litre luggage area (with the rear seats upright).

The Outback continues to offer a significant 200mm of ground clearance, while the placement of the compact, horizontally-opposed engine and transmission afford a typically Subaru-like low centre of gravity, endowing the Outback with high levels of cornering stability.

Subaru's Symmetrical All-Wheel Drive system features on all Outback models.

For those equipped with a manual transmission, the AWD technology is accompanied by Active Torque Split, and for those with the Lineartronic CVT it is coupled with a centre differential with viscous limited slip differential. Both drivetrain layouts deliver reassuring driving dynamics in all conditions, both on- and off-road.

Eartronic

The 2014 MY Subaru Outback 2.0D Lineartronic variant will feature a new trim level, the SX. High levels of standard equipment are featured inside and out.

For the exterior there are new 17in gunmetal alloy wheels, along with body-coloured bumpers, body-coloured power folding door mirrors (with integrated LED indicator repeaters), and matching colour-coded door handles. Silver roof rails and a roof spoiler are other exterior accents, while a power-sliding glass sunroof (with sunshade) and UV protected front, side and rear glass also feature.

Self-levelling automatic HID headlamps and rain sensing wipers add convenience for the driver.

Further highlights include front fog lights, pop-up headlight washers, heated mirrors, rear window defogger with timer, front and side window defrosters, and a windscreen wiper de-icer function.

Inside, the new SX model provides the Outback with a wealth of useful equipment.

Audio and cruise control functions are present on the leather-trimmed steering wheel, while new sports seats at the front are heated to provide extra comfort when the weather turns cold.

For further comfort and convenience of driver and passengers, dual-zone automatic air-conditioning, Bluetooth hands-free system, audio system with USB connectivity and a VGA centre display with rear vision camera are all present.

New speedometer and rev counter dials feature in the Outback's upgraded instrument binnacle, while a one-touch lane change facility has also been added which activates the indicators to flash three times.

Additional features of leather interior and satellite navigation are available as dealer fit options if the customers wish to upgrade.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

VISITOR MANAGER
(FRONT OF HOUSE/RETAIL)

A unique opportunity has arisen at Dudley Zoological Gardens. We are looking to recruit a Visitor Manager to support the Visitor Services Manager to help deliver the best of visitor care and satisfaction to all our visitors.

This is a very exciting time to join us as the Zoo has embarked on a major refurbishment programme improving the look and feel of the site enhancing the visitor experience. The Visitor Manager's position will be pivotal to the delivery of the Visitor Experience.

The Visitor Manager will work with the Visitor Services Manager and will play a key role for the management and delivery of Admissions, Retail Operations (Stock Management and Sales & Merchandising), Visitor Transport, Outreach, Face Painting, Birthday Parties and Events.

The successful candidate will ideally have managerial experience in a customer facing environment, high volume retail experience, a working knowledge of EPOS systems, and be very resourceful and be an organised individual who is passionate about delivering the best of visitor care and satisfaction at all times.

This is a permanent position offering a salary of up to £25,000 p.a. Reviewed after 6 months.

Please send your hand written letter of application together with a full CV to :
Adrian Pace
Visitor Services Manager
Dudley Zoological Gardens
Castle Hill, Dudley
West Midlands DY1 4QF

All applications must be received by Friday the 08th of November 2013.

Staffordshire County Council

THE TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT PROCEDURE)(ENGLAND) ORDER 2010

NOTICE UNDER ARTICLE 13 (4) OF APPLICATION FOR PLANNING PERMISSION

I give notice that Biffa Waste Services Limited are applying to Staffordshire County Council for planning permission for the variation of Condition 1 of planning permission CH.10/07/721 MW to substitute the approved layout plan with a revised layout plan and elevations for the Anaerobic Digestion Facility at Biffa Waste Services Ltd., Poplars Landfill Site, Lichfield Road, Cannock.

Application Number : CH.13/09/721 MW

The proposed development does not accord with the provisions of the development plan in force in the area in which the land to which the application relates is situated as land lies within the Green Belt.

Members of the public may inspect copies of the application, the plans, and other documents submitted with it at Staffordshire County Council, No. 1 Staffordshire Place, Stafford, ST16 2LP, the offices of Cannock Chase Council, Planning Services Manager, P.O. Box 28, Civic Centre, Beecroft Road, Cannock, Staffordshire, or Cannock Library, Manor Avenue, Cannock, Staffordshire, during all reasonable hours until 14 November 2013 .

The documents are also available on the Staffordshire Planning web page www.staffordshire.gov.uk/planning. Go to the Application Register, enter the application number and click on the 'documents' tab.

The Case Officer who is dealing with this application is Graham Allen who can be contacted on 01785 277299.

Anyone who wishes to make representations about this application should write, quoting the application number and providing their full address and post code, to Planning, Policy & Development Control (Floor 2), Staffordshire County Council, c/o Wedgwood Building (Block A), Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2DH marked for the attention of the Case Officer referred to above by 14 November 2013. Alternatively you can make your representations via the Staffordshire Planning web page www.staffordshire.gov.uk/planning. Simply go to the Applications Register and enter the application number.

Please note: any representations received are open to all to read and to copy (including, but not limited to: the applicant, the applicant's agent, the public, or the press). Copyright restrictions and photocopying charges may apply. If for any reason you do not want your representations to be made publicly available in this way then you have the right to withdraw them, in which case we will delete your representation from our records and the comments will not be considered by the Director for Place & Deputy Chief Executive or the Planning Committee. Also, in the event of an appeal being made any representations would be passed to the Planning Inspectorate for considerations as part of the appeal and they may publish details of your comments, on the internet (on the Appeals area of the Planning Portal www.planningportal.gov.uk/appeal).

Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (As Amended)
Road Traffic (Temporary Restrictions) Act 1991

STONEHOUSE ROAD, RUGELEY
DIVERSION OF VEHICULAR TRAFFIC

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council, on 22 October 2013, made an Order the effect of which is to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of Stonehouse Road, Rugeley between its junctions with Shooting Butts Road and Chaseley Road unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works. Pedestrian access will be maintained.

The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via Shooting Butts Road, Chaseley Road, Stonehouse Road and vice versa.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 28 OCTOBER 2013, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY 1 NOVEMBER 2013.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the private drainage repair works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984-SECTION 14(1)(A)
THE A5 TRUNK ROAD (GAILEY, STAFFORDSHIRE)
(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2013

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A5 Trunk Road near Gailey in the County of Staffordshire, to allow resurfacing and other maintenance work to be carried out.

The effect of the Order will be to close–

1) the eastbound and westbound carriageways of the A5 from the roundabout junction with the A449 Stafford Road at Gailey to the roundabout junction with the M6 at Junction 12; and
2) the layby situated on the eastbound carriageway of the A5, 863 metres east of the A449 roundabout; and
3) the layby situated on the westbound carriageway of the A5, 996 metres west of the A449 roundabout.

The work will be carried out overnight between 20:00 hours and 06:00 hours and is expected to start on Wednesday 13 November 2013 and continue for two weeks. The laybys will be closed 24 hours per day during this period. The Order will come into force on 8 November 2013.

Vehicles being used for police, fire brigade or ambulance purposes and vehicles being used in connection with the works will be exempt from the closures. Diversion routes for high vehicles via A449, M54, A460 and M6 (eastbound) or M6 and A449 (westbound) will be well signed. Local diversion routes for other vehicles using Station Drive, Four Ashes, which has a low bridge, will also operate. Access to properties will be maintained at all times.

For further information, please contact Purnima Kaul, Project Manager in the Highways Agency, on 0121 687 8586.

Mike Lloyd, a Higher Executive Officer in the Highways Agency.

Away day score draw as Martin hits home

Beeston 2nd 1
Cannock Ladies 1st 1

Cannock Firsts travelled to Beeston on Saturday and secured a draw against second-in-league Beeston with a goal from Sarah Martin. Cannock hold fourth place in the table. Player of the match went to goalkeeper Tammy Haydon.

Kettering 1st 0
Cannock Ladies 2nd 1

Cannock Seconds faced their fourth league game and were fired up to secure their first win following last week's disappointment.

Cannock settled quickly and were unlucky not to have scored in the first half with a number of chances for Holly Turbill, Sophie Tibbetts and Gemma Brookes.

After the half-time break Cannock continued to press, gaining a short corner.

Sent out to Jude Hitchens who played the ball in to Holly Turbill, setting up Gemma Brookes who slotted the ball into the back of the net.

Kettering had a few chances but they were dealt with by the defence and goalkeeper Liz Mahon. Player of the match went to Becky Bradley for her excellent defending. A great team effort and a well-deserved win.

So close as Roberts to miss final

GREAT Wyrley boxer Reece Roberts will miss out on the Midlands CYP Finals after dropping a close 3-2 majority verdict to Midlands Champion Sher Aziz (Small Heath ABC).

It's the second close decision Roberts had dropped in a week and after winning all four bouts last season.

Roberts got through with a few good looking shots that seemed to take the first round.

In the second round Roberts kept his composure and landed with single punches, in particular a hard right hand that spun the head of Aziz.

Sensing it was very close, both boxers opened up in the last roundbut three out of the five judges ruled Aziz had landed cleaner punches.

Progress halted in third round of Vase

Burntwood 15 Stafford 33

BURNTWOOD had made it through to this third round of the RFU Senior Vase without even playing a match in the competition. But their progress was checked by visitors Stafford.

Having received a bye in the first Round, they were awarded a home walk over when Kings Norton called the fixture off due to an injury crisis.

Here, both defences were tested in the opening quarter but the game remained scoreless. An intricate move by the home backs almost worked but the final pass didn't go to hand. However, on 20 minutes Will Peach put his side three points ahead with a penalty goal after the Stafford backs were caught offside.

Just three minutes later the visitors took the lead when their No. 13 chipped the ball over halfway. He caught his own kick and sped in under the posts for a converted try.

Craig Seedhouse went close for Burntwood on 27 minutes. It needed a good tackle to deny his darting run five metres from the line.

The last five minutes of the half proved decisive. The visitors began to assert themselves and were rewarded with a pushover try near the clubhouse corner which was converted. Then five minutes into added time, Stafford scored a third converted try.

Despite their backs grounding a pass on their own 10 metre line, the full back recovered possession to outpace two defenders for a fine individual try under the posts.

The visitors pulled well clear with another converted try in the first minute of the second period. Much to their credit, against opposition from a league above, Ian Jones's side fought back to gain a foothold in Stafford territory.

Peach was unlucky not to score when he stretched over the line only to lose possession of the ball after 51 minutes.

It proved only a temporary setback as two minutes later Burntwood managed to reduce the arrears.

Danny Poole, enjoying another dynamic game, drove forward to set up a ruck.

The ball was moved to Ben Holt and he glided through a gap on an arcing run for fine try converted by Peach. Stafford scored their final try with 10 minutes left as the weather conditions deteriorated.

An infringement allowed the Stafford kicker to punt to the corner and a catch and drive try was the result.

Back came the home side and Graham Shelley made the scoreline more respectable when he drove over the line following a close range scrum with three minutes left.

Burntwood resume league action with a trip to Edwardians this Saturday.

Downpour forces end to proceedings late on

Redditch United v Chasetown
FA Carlsberg Trophy
Abandoned after 81 minutes with Redditch leading 2-1

REDDITCH will feel hard done by that the game was abandoned with them leading but the game but the incessant second half rain was making a mockery of the game.

The referee had consulted his one assistant 15 minutes earlier and perhaps could have taken the decision to abandon the game then.

By the time the proceedings were halted, the home side were leading 2-1 but with the ball not reaching intended targets particularly in the half of the field Chasetown were attacking, there was no realistic hope The Scholars could get enough control of the game in the conditions to fashion an equaliser and the risk to players getting injuries was an increasing worry.

If Redditch were gutted by the abandonment, spare a thought also for Scholars' midfielder Grant Beckett.

He gave Chasetown the lead after just 15 seconds – faster than the Harry Harris goal scored at Rushall in 2009 – but the 'goal' will be voided out and never officially classed as a record-breaking fastest goal for Chasetown.

Beckett received the ball from Nick Wellecomme and coolly netted to give Chasetown a dream start.

Eventually, and deservedly, the home side levelled in the closing minutes of the first half as the Omari Sterling James exquisitely lobbed Price.

Football

After the break it was the tricky No.7 who gave the home side the lead as he drilled home.

Seven minutes later the heavens opened and the brave Scholars fans behind the goal stuck it out for a few minutes before the precipitation became too much for even the hardiest supporter!

Within 10 minutes of the rain starting, the first water was sitting on the surface and the rain was so heavy at some points it was literally sweeping across the field and into the stand where the previously hardy Scholars supporters thought they had taken sufficient shelter.

That prompted the first discussion between the match officials and, despite the duration of the game and its proximity to the end, the opinion of supporters of both sides was that the game would not have started if the pitch had looked like that at 3pm, and despite the obvious disappointment for the home fans, the correct decision was made by referee Mr Law.

Cannock 2
Sheffield Hallam 2

CANNOCK and Sheffield came into their sixth fixture looking for a positive result with both teams only having had one win so far in the NOW: Pensions Premier Division.

Good play down the right from Cannock gave David Beckett the opportunity to execute his trade mark elimination skills and round the advancing goalkeeper, to smash the ball home.

Moments after, Cannock won a short corner and Pete Jackson fired home Cannock's second.

As the half was drawing to a close Sheffield found a breakthrough which came from a well-worked short corner that Gareth Furlong finished off . Sheffield later forced an equaliser from an own goal.

In the Midlands Leagues Cannock found a rich vein of form with all sides being victorious. The seconds beat local rivals Lichfield 7-0. The thirds brushed Sutton Coldfield aside 10-0.

Last year's league champions the 4ths finally clicked into gear and recorded a 7-2 win over last year's runners up West Bridgford 5ths.

Cannock 5ths beat West Bridgford 4ths 2-0. The 6ths had a close-fought game against Barford Tigers and scraped a 2-1 victory. The young 7th team also returned to winning ways with a 4-0 win over Sutton Coldfield 7ths. The 8th Team beat Aldridge 3-2.

Kickboxers strike gold

KICKBOXERS from Cannock struck gold when they took on martial arts clubs from Kidderminster and the surrounding areas.

The EMHAA club members took part in three one-and-a-half-minute rounds at the weekend. From seven fights, the club took home seven golds and two silver medals.

Kayleigh Goodwin was fighter of the night for her fast combinations, great footwork and slick skills.

Weather soggy but Saddlers are on fire

Swindon 1 Walsall 3

FORGET the scoreline, it wasn't that close.

On a soggy night in Wiltshire, Dean Smith's Walsall simply pulverised Swindon and in doing so catapulted themselves into the top six.

The bare statistics will tell you two goals from Ashley Hemmings, the first one of the finest strikes you will see all season, either side of Sam Mantom's effort early in the second half earned the three points. But that tells only half the story.

Were it not for a sublime display by home keeper Wes Foderingham, the score would have been far wider.

Nile Ranger's late consolation for the hosts cut the deficit to two goals.

For the Saddlers this performance mirrored that at Colchester in terms of dominance, the difference being in this one they found the net.

Only five days ago Smith was defending his forward line after fans complained of a lack of goals. Now they've hit five in four days.

Although keeper Richard O'Donnell will be angry at the momentary hesitation which allowed Ranger to pounce late on, he redeemed himself with a superb save from the striker in stoppage time.

The fixture list does not get any easier for the Saddlers as Orient-conquering Coventry await on Saturday.

Hayes fail to meet the Quorn challenge

Heath Hayes 1 Quorn 2

Football

HEATH Hayes will be kicking themselves for not taking something from this Midland Alliance fixture against third-placed Quorn who had beaten them 4-0 earlier in the season.

Twice in the opening 10 minutes Alex Imerfreys, on for the injured Chris Geldart, had clear cut chances but on both occasions dragged his efforts wide.

Hayes forced a series of corners and Dave Waple and Tom Green came agonisingly close from headers.

However it was the visitors who took the lead, much against the run of play, on 28 minutes when the home side gave the ball away in midfield and Dan Henton played the ball through to Liam Turner who had time to pick his spot.

Hayes came back strongly and Mitch Teece played a good ball to Dave Waple down the right and his excellent cross was fired home in superb style by Tom Green. Moments later Green should have put his side in front but his effort struck the underside of the bar and somehow rebounded to safety. Back came Quorn and following several dangerous runs and crosses by Liam Read, Turner restored their lead.

Adam Langley then went close for Hayes and a powerful header from Green bought an excellent save from Quorn keeper Mat Nurse.

James Parsonage replaced the injured Joe Geldart at the break and was immediately in the action sending over an inviting cross for Waple to bring another fine save from Nurse, whilst at the other end Adam Jenkins made a stunning save diving low down to deny Dominic Brennan.

Hayes bought on Alex Roofe and played three up front in an effort to get something from the game and despite several near misses and further heroics from keeper Nurse their defence, with Jordon Wakeling outstanding, held firm to take all three points.

Despite the defeat manger Steve Taylor can take comfort from the way his team are playing and the effort and commitment was there for all to see.

DRAWING COMFORT FROM LONG JOURNEY

Workington 2 Hednesford Town 2

AFTER travelling more than 500 miles in the last two fixtures, Hednesford Town secured a point away to bottom placed Workington.

Football

When looked at in the general scheme of things, this was a satisfactory result, leaving The Pitmen still top of Skrill North.

Dave Macpherson, Darren Campion, Aaron Rey and Neil Harvey were all missing for The Pitmen and, with Wayne Riley furrowing a lonely channel up front for most of the first half, Workington took advantage of a depleted Hednesford line up.

Elliott Durrell, playing on the left wing, cut in on his right foot and hit a shot inches wide of the post shortly before the opening goal for Workington.

Misjudgement

Despite starting his first game for the Pitmen encouragingly, a misjudgement by debutant Paul McCone on 13 minutes left his back pass short of Dan Crane and, although the keeper made a brave save from Forrest, the ball fell to Joe Jackson who couldn't miss from six yards out.

Alex Melbourne was sacrificed by manager Rob Smith and replaced by Michael Lennon at half-time as Hednesford chased an equaliser, but it was Jamey Osborne who restored parity as he finished smartly from a Ben Bailey long throw on 48 minutes.

The Pitmen suddenly showed the confidence and momentum they had been lacking in the first half, but that impetus lasted just seven minutes as Jackson set up Forrest for Workington's second goal.

To their credit, Hednesford didn't allow themselves to be rocked by the setback and, after Lennon headed against the bar from a Durrell corner, Bailey reacted quickest to stroke the ball home after a goalmouth scramble on 69 minutes.

The final 20 minutes saw both teams trying their hardest to break the deadlock but John Disney, Bailey and Francino Francis, ensured no chances were created for Workington.

The Pitmen could have snatched the win after playing the better football in the second half.

Their big chance came with only two minutes remaining when, from a Kris Taylor corner , Bailey jumped highest and headed towards goal only for Anthony Wright to do his job on the far post and hack the ball off the line.

This Saturday's Skrill North home match against Harrogate Town has been postponed because of the Pitmen's FA Cup tie at Stamford and has been rearranged for Tuesday, December 10, kick off 7.45pm.

Wolves run out Athletic

Wolves 2 Oldham 0

WOLVES didn't show us anything new as they took care of Oldham. But then they didn't have to.

Athletic were dispatched with a performance of efficiency from this team's familiar match-winners, all proving a powerful combination in League One.

A first-half injury to Matt Doherty was boss Jackett's only irritation as James Henry and Leigh Griffiths scored the second-half goals that rewarded Wolves' growing domination.

You can probably guess who unlocked the visitors' resistance. Returning to the stage where three days earlier Bakary Sako had given one of those fitful, erratic performances, the French winger once again showed why all the frustrations that come with the package can be worth it.

One sudden cross of surprising ferocity did for keeper Mark Oxley to pave the way for Henry's all-important opener; an equally out-of-the-blue push-and-go, followed by a through ball, took out two defenders, Genseric Kusunga and Korey Smith, for the second from Griffiths.

Call-off not my fault, says boss

BOSS Craig Harris insists he is not to blame for Chasetown's FA Trophy clash at Redditch being abandoned with the Scholars 2-1 down.

Saturday's tie was halted after 81 minutes because of a waterlogged pitch. Harris said some Redditch players accused him of trying to get the match called off, adding: "If we're going out, I want us to go out fair and square."
